Seizure Blocks Strike

Truman Moves, Murray Yields

PITTSBURGH, April 8 (AP).—The federal government seized the steel industry under a history-making Presidential order tonight and the C.I.O. United Steelworkers immediately called off their midnight strike.

President Truman announced his seizure decision over radio and television from the White House just 90 minutes before the strike deadline. Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O. Steelworkers of America, followed it up with his "back-to-work" order.

Truman's announcement followed by only 30 minutes a break-off in negotiations in New York between management and union leaders with Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the wage stabilization board.

Industry leaders declared emphatically their intention of fighting the seizure. They argue it is illegal.

Before the strike was called off, some steelworkers had jumped the gun and stopped work. Stoppages closed plants in Detroit and near Pittsburgh.

These were developments prior to the Truman broadcast announcing calling-off of the walkout:

Across the United States, the giant basic steel industry reached the final stages of its shut-down process. Steel companies take up to 96 hours to cool off iron-and-steel-making furnaces to avoid damaging costly equipment.

In Pittsburgh, board chairman Ernest T. Weir of National Steel Corporation jumped into the controversy with the statement:

"There must have been a deal (on wage increases) between powers in the administration and labor leaders in which labor leaders received assurance their demands would have support."

E. G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steels Corporation, said governmental seizure of his industry would be "a drastic remedy which Congress has rejected and for which there is no statutory warrant or authority."

The number one obstacle to a settlement was how much of a price increase the companies will be permitted by the government. Company spokesmen have said the W.S.B. recommendations will require a $12 a ton price boost. The W.S.B. recommended a package pay boost of 17½ cents an hour.

Industry has offered a 16-cent-an-hour increase, rejected by president Philip Murray of both the C.I.O. and the United Steelworkers.

Canadian Jet Not Yet Ready

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP).—Defense Minister Claxton admitted today that the early high hopes for unusually swift production of an all-Canada jet fighter and engine have been dashed.

He added, however, that both the CF-100 Canuck fighter and the Orenda engine should be in regular use by the R.C.A.F. within a time any country would consider normal for production of such new equipment.

Canaries Fire Victims

Heat from the house fire at 1212 Haultain yesterday afternoon destroyed the four canaries in these two cages beside fireman Alan Duval. Two more were smothered in another cage in the kitchen. Radio-phonograph was ruined and clothing was burned beyond repair. Heat blistered walls and smoke damage was extensive.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Colonist Photographer Jim Ryan was on the scene of this blaze before the second fire truck roared up. He saw firemen break into the house with hoses and other equipment as they fought to confine the fire to the living room. Burning furniture and other household items were carried or thrown out of the house to the front lawn where firemen later extinguished the smouldering ruins.

Fire Damage Hits $2,000; Canaries Die

Six pet canaries died in a fire that caused an estimated $2,000 damage to a Haultain Street home yesterday while the owners were away shopping.

Headed by Deputy Fire Chief James Bayliss, firemen burst into the burning home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gordon, 1212 Haultain, but they were too late to save the birds. They were found dead in the bottom of their cages.

Neighbors said Mr. and Mrs. Gordon drove to town about 15 minutes before the fire was discovered. Firemen and police were still trying to locate them an hour later.

When firemen arrived neighbors were playing garden hoses on the small, five-room house.

FURNITURE RUINED

Firemen smashed in windows and quickly had the blaze under control. It was nearly out by the time Fire Chief Frank Briers arrived on the scene.

Nearly every piece of furniture in the living room was ruined and smoke damage to clothing and other items in the home was extensive.

City May Buy Power Plant

The city can acquire ownership in the Goldstream power plant and generate its own power, the executive committee learned yesterday.

In a report to the committee, city solicitor Arthur Patton traced the whole history of the agreement with the B.C. Electric Railway Co. and concluded that for the price of the building and turbines, the city could acquire the plant.

He was asked to bring in a report following a previous discussion of the matter by Mayor Claude Harrison and the committee.

The mayor and Mr. Patton have been authorized by the committee to make further studies to determine if the city is bound in any way to buy power from the B.C.E.

Mr. Patton quoted from a section of the Municipal Act which authorizes municipalities, with the assent of the cabinet, to own and operate their own utility companies.

He also said that the Greater Victoria Water Board officials "would welcome Victoria's taking over the plant if the city so desires."

Also under discussion was the question of buying power direct from the B.C. Power Commission as proposed by W. A. Scott before the committee last week.

Ald. Waldo Skillings asked the solicitor if there was any legal obstacle to this course.

"Up-Island industries like the one at Duncan Bay are getting power for less than half the price we pay," he said.

He said he had heard that the B.C. Power Commission may have a surplus of power when the Buttle Lake dam is completed and may build a direct line to the Lower Island.

This, he said, would make it unnecessary to use power from the B.C.E. which owns the transmission line south of Nanaimo.

Premier Manning Asks Approval of Gas Export

EDMONTON, April 8 (CP).—Premier E. C. Manning today asked the Alberta legislature to endorse the government's decision to export natural gas from the Peace River area and said a refusal would be a most serious blow to the program of oil and gas development in the province.

In a 70-minute speech, the premier explained point by point a draft permit tabled Monday which would allow Westcoast Transmission Company Limited to pipe Peace River gas to Vancouver and the northwestern United States under a 22-year agreement.

Mr. Manning said the government's policy had been that as soon as surplus gas reserves were proven they would be made available for export. The conservation board now had found that a surplus exists in the Peace River area. It would be "very, very disastrous indeed" if the province were to go back on its word, Mr. Manning said.

"We would have broken faith with those who had risked millions of dollars in the search for gas," he said.

To refuse export would be of no possible advantage to the rest of the province. For the Peace River area, refusal would deny it local gas service which it could not otherwise obtain and deny it the prospect of intensive development in gas and oil, he said.

The premier said Alberta's policy is to give her sister provinces in the west preference when gas is available for export, and the plan to build a pipeline to British Columbia was in accord with that policy.

Excise Tax on Cars, Refrigerators Cut

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP).—Cuts in cigarettes and luxury taxes were announced tonight by Finance Minister Abbott in a budget which also will increase personal income taxes.

The cigarette tax drops three cents on a package of 20—back to where it was before the last budget.

The special 25-per-cent excise tax on motor cars and other luxuries is reduced to 15 per cent.

The special 15-per-cent excise tax on household washing machines, stoves and refrigerators is abolished.

These changes become effective immediately.

Mr. Abbott announced a now-you-see-it-now-you-don't cut in personal income taxes which runs to approximately 6 per cent on average, effective July 1 next.

But this will be more than offset by the 2-per-cent social-security tax the government begins collecting the same day.

DEDUCTIONS UP

The net result is that the average taxpayers' pay-cheque deductions, so far as government levies are concerned, will go up—not down—beginning in July. On a calendar year basis, all taxpayers will bear a heavier tax load in 1952 than they did in 1951.

The 20-per-cent defense surtax announced in the last budget has been incorporated into a new basic personal income-tax schedule.

In bringing in a new schedule of personal income tax rates, Mr. Abbott said the existing 20-per-cent surcharge method of increasing the personal income tax had boosted "in a distorted manner" the rate of progression in the schedule. In certain circumstances, it resulted in a tax of more than 100 per cent.

For Further Budget News See Page 25

This anomaly was being removed and a "more reasonable scale of progression" established, he said.

Through this alteration, the average taxpayer will pay "six per cent less than he would otherwise have done under the income tax law as it now stands."

But this reduction, for the bulk of taxpayers, will be more than offset by the two-per-cent social security levy since the social-security tax two per cent of taxable income while the six-per-cent reduction is only six per cent of tax paid.

HIGH BRACKETS HELPED

Mr. Abbott himself said:

"I do not believe that for most taxpayers the income tax reduction I have announced will be sufficient to offset the old-age security tax."

There is a $60-a-year ceiling on the amount of social-security tax any one taxpayer must pay and this means those in the higher brackets, running from about $7,500 a year up, will experience lower, rather than higher, weekly deductions beginning July 1.

However, on a straight comparison between 1952 and 1951, the tax payable for 1952 will be higher because of the heavier impact of the defense surcharge imposed July 1 last.

There is a better break for the taxpayer with medical bills which he can deduct from his taxable income. The ceilings on the amounts deductible are raised to $1,500 from $750 for single persons, to $2,000 from $1,000 for married and to $500 from $250 for each dependent. The four-per-cent floor on medical bills remains.

Business taxes, in the main, are unchanged.

Budget Highlights

Personal income taxes drop an average of six per cent July 1 next, but Social Security Tax more than eliminates benefit.

Present 20-per-cent defense surtax incorporated in new personal income tax schedule; basic exemptions unchanged.

Ceilings on amount of deductible medical expenses raised, but four-per-cent floor remains.

Cigarette tax reduced by three cents on package of 20—back to rate before last budget—effective immediately.

Tax on raw leaf tobacco cut by three-quarters of a cent an ounce—back to previous rate—effective immediately.

Special 25-per-cent tax on motor cars and other luxuries cut to 15 per cent—effective immediately.

Special 15-per-cent excise tax on household washing machines, stoves and refrigerators repealed—effective immediately.

Special excise tax on soft drinks cut to 15 per cent from 30 per cent on soft drinks and to 25 cents a pound from 50 cents on carbonic acid—effective immediately.

Excise tax of 15 per cent levied on dry-powder drinks competitive with soft drinks—effective immediately.

Surplus for 1952-53 expected to be $9,000,000 compared with $355,737,000 for 1951-52.

Revenues in 1952-53 estimated at $4,279,000,000 compared with $4,003,111,000 in 1951-52, an all-time record.

Expenditures for 1952-53 estimated at $4,270,000,000 compared with $2,647,374,000 in 1951-52.

Corporation tax on companies generating electricity, steam or gas is limited to maximum 43 per cent, compared with general company-tax maximum of 50 per cent.

Crown companies in competition with private industry, previously tax-exempt, to pay normal corporation tax.

Tax deductions for exploration costs of petroleum, natural gas and mining industries extended an additional year.

Three-year tax exemption for new mines extended to mines starting production in 1955.

Tariff amendments provide some reductions, some modifications and some additions, effective immediately.

Stand-Pat Budget Offers Little in Way of Glamour

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP). — To Finance Minister Abbott, it was a stability budget, an I-would-if-I-could-but-I-can't budget.

There's nothing terribly glamorous about stability. By and large, for Canada's man-in-the-street, there was nothing terribly glamorous about Mr. Abbott's eighth budget either.

As one of the minister's top advisers put it: "It's a stand-pat budget."

Taxes aren't going up. With the important exception of commodity taxes, they aren't going down either.

For the family that wants a car or a washing machine or an electric stove or refrigerator, there is some sunshine and for the man who smokes cigarettes there is the prospect of a three-cent cut on a package of 20. Otherwise, there is little excitement or financial relief.

WILL WRECK BENEFIT

Income taxes are coming down an average of 6 per cent. But the new two-per-cent social-security tax will wreck most of the benefit of that. At least, however, as one official said, the taxpayer in effect won't have to dip deeper to pay for old-age pensions after all.

The big news for the average Canadian family lay in commodity taxes. Last year the special excise tax on cars, tires, tubes, cameras, firearms, fishing rods, furs, jewelry, clocks, lighters, matches, radios, trunks and a wide variety of other commodities went up to 25 per cent.

Tonight Mr. Abbott, aware that those high levies were teaming with credit restrictions to cut business, reduced it to 15 per cent. That could mean savings running into the hundreds of dollars on some cars, into lesser sums on other items.

Even bigger was the elimination of a special 15-per-cent excise tax on household washing machines, stoves and refrigerators, holding out the hope of even higher cuts in those prices.

R.C.A.F. Held Seeking Bases

PARIS, April 8 (RUP) — Informed sources in Paris say that the Royal Canadian Air Force will start negotiations shortly to obtain land for bases near Metz.

The sources say Canadian Air Marshal Wilfred A. Curtis and staff officers would arrive in Metz Friday to consult local French authorities.

The bases would house Canadian air units in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Victoria Reaction Mixed

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Victorians took the budget news last night with mixed feelings. Some who had expected nothing got a pleasant surprise. Others thought Mr. Abbott had been unnecessarily stingy.

Most disappointed were the cigarette smokers who had been banking on at least a nickel reduction. The three-cent relief brings the price of the pack down to 40 cents—or two cents a smoke.

The cheerful news was in the relief from excise tax.

The average Canadian automobile will cost about $150 less as a result of the reduction from 25 per cent to 15 per cent in the excise tax.

A similar reduction will help lower the prices of furs, luggage, radios, some electrical appliances and sporting goods.

Excise Tax Savings

Car	$150
Refrigerator	$50
Radio	$10
Cigarettes	Three Cents
Soft Drinks	Nothing

The repeal of the 15 per cent tax on refrigerators, stoves and washing machines is also welcomed.

RELIEF OF $25

"On a $400 refrigerator, the relief will amount to $25," one electrical appliance dealer said. "The 15 per cent is imposed on the manufacturers' and not the retailers' price."

Another dealer reckoned it out more optimistically. He considered that there might be a saving of over $50 on a $400 article on which the 15 per cent has been abolished.

J. M. Wood, president of the Victoria Motor Dealers' Association said that the reduction in the excise tax would undoubtedly be a step to assist the sale of cars locally.

But he pointed out that the chief deterrent to the industry remained in the shape of unchanged credit restrictions.

Mr. Abbott said that he was not altering these regulations at this time, but was watching the situation and would give relief as he thought safe.

One of the chief worries of the car dealers in Victoria is how they will stand with stocks of cars on hand.

NO ASSURANCE

"The government would give us no assurance that cars on our inventories would be granted the excise tax relief," said Mr. Wood. "However we are continuing to press the point, because this is not a tax at the consumer, but at the manufacturers' level."

Some local dealers have been refraining in the past few weeks from taking delivery of their new cars from railway cars preferring to pay extra charges to the railway companies for the use of the rail cars.

Aubrey Kent, electrical appliance dealer, said that the new reliefs should be a big help to the retail trade although he considered the down-payment question was equally important.

"I hope Mr. Abbott will see fit to ease the situation in that respect shortly," he declared.

Mr. Kent said that firms with big inventories would be severely hit by the excise tax reductions.

"I do not think there is any doubt about it. The retailer will have to bear the loss on all stock he holds at present," said Mr. Kent.

BOTTLERS PLEASED

Soft drink bottlers welcomed the news that the tax on their product would be cut from 30 per cent to 15 per cent, but individual local companies did not consider it likely that the consumer would benefit.

"The price so far as my company is concerned will be seven cents per bottle or six cents per bottle by the case," said Eric W. Brinkworth, local bottler.

He said the relief would not be sufficient to make a reduction per bottle by even one cent.

"We work on very close margin of profit," he said, adding that when the tax had been increased to 30 per cent, it had reduced the volume of sales throughout Canada by 20 per cent.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

The clouds were grey and thick overhead, but toward the west there was a glow of sunshine. So, on our way home from town on a Sunday afternoon, we decided we would drive to Sooke.

I had no urgent tasks to perform, and yet I began to feel vaguely guilty because I wasn't at home working. In recent years I have developed an unfortunate attitude toward work. I wouldn't say I actually like work, but I have begun to make a habit of it.

Anyone who notes this tendency in himself should stamp on it ruthlessly. It may end in chronic addiction to work, which, I'm told, is worse than drugs.

This little jaunt was for the benefit of my visiting mother-in-law, so my conscience was eased slightly. Perhaps driving was work too, and therefore allowable.

As we passed beyond the rim of the clouds and into the sunshine, and the little car hummed along the smooth road past hills and trees and farms, a certain feeling of well-being seeped through.

* * *

Most of us live only on the settled fringes of a district. Our mental maps are blank in the centre. It happened, for instance, that in all my years on Vancouver Island I had never visited Glinz Lake.

So when we came to Glinz Lake Road I turned up it on impulse. After half a mile of jolting advance over a track that seemed to run up the wall of a quarry, I began to wish I had been more cautious. We hoped that Glinz Lake would be round the next bend, or over the next perpendicular hill, or at the end of the miry stretch through the woods. Several times we nearly turned back, but we kept on, feeling that after this ordeal we should stick it to the end.

A rustic sign read (we thought) "Thunderbird Camp 10 miles," which was a shocking distance, but we half-concluded that it had read one mile before some joker altered it. Nevertheless, it felt like 10 before the car heaved up one more spine-cracking climb and began to run downhill among the huts of the "Y" camp.

The lake itself was well worth the effort—a slender piece of water with that emerald tinge you see only in lakes surrounded by evergreen trees. I thought I saw some fish rising. A squirrel flickered through the underbrush as we climbed to the outdoor chapel, with its rough wooden cross and half-log seats, overlooking the green lake through the trees.

The air was fresh and sweet. Here was a fine place for a chapel, away from the dusty indoors.

We clambered down and drove back to the main road. It seemed shorter this time, because we knew what was ahead.

And so we rolled west, enjoying glimpses of the sea and the woods and little rushing creeks. Then we decided to drive as far as Jordan River, a journey I had never made before.

We passed only one car the whole way. It was a lonely and beautiful road. The mountains of Washington state loomed in the far distance, white and faint. The big waves of the Pacific came foaming up on the beaches.

After a long haul we rounded a bend and found ourselves driving almost at sea level past the lumber company offices and houses and over a bridge that spans the Jordan River. The big waves made a continuous roar. We went into a community-store-cafe kind of place full of cheerful people, with a sign posted saying "no caulk boots allowed."

Then we drove on and up, overlooking a panorama of logged land and white beaches below, until we came to a gate barring the way. The West Coast air tasted cooler and sharper—or was it imagination? The open Pacific boiled on the beach a few hundred feet down. On the heights above there was a touch of snow. We took a breather, listened to the creek and the frogs and the wind, and turned back. It's a good thing the road went no farther. We might not be home yet.

Holy Season Tribute Presented at School

BY RAY BAINES

Events and associations leading to the character development of Simon Peter were portrayed by a group of able and sincere players at the Sir James Douglas School auditorium last night.

A fitting tribute to the coming holy season, the play "The Rock" was received with warm enthusiasm by the near capacity audience.

Authentic costumes, good sets and lighting, colorful murals and better-than-average acting made the play more than just a religious episode.

Clark Gilbart turned in a good performance as Simon as did Lillian Houston as Adina, Peter's wife.

Also good were Vivian Johnston as Deborah, Allison Hill as Ucal, Ella Grier as Mary of Magdala, Jack Grier as Pandira and Agur and Jim Oliver as Titus, a Roman soldier.

Carol James, Violet Pethard and Georgina Pethard were seen as servants to Ucal and Magdala.

The play, presented in three acts, was well directed by Robert Baird with the assistance of Doris Freeman.

Presented under the auspices of the Fairfield United Church, the play will be repeated Thursday night.

Rev. William Allan was chairman of the group and the Sunday school orchestra was under the direction of Lance Whittiker.

Committee Defers Question

Senior City Executives Ask Pay Boosts

Pay boosts ranging from $30 to $60 a month have been requested by 14 City Hall senior executives which would raise their annual cost to the city from $78,060 to $83,840.

The requests with approval from City Manager Cecil Wyatt were presented to the executive committee at a meeting yesterday.

The committee agreed to defer the question until a decision is reached on engaging Stevenson and Kellogg to make a complete survey and job evaluation for the city service.

The increase would raise the pay of four department heads, city engineer, city solicitor, comptroller-treasurer and medical health officer, from last year's $566 a month to $625 a month. The salaries of 10 "Group II" executives, including the city clerk, assessor-collector, personnel officer and parks administrator, would be raised from last year's $466 to $500.

Purpose of the increase, stated the manager, was to establish the differential between the department heads and subheads and the general staff which has received regular increases each year.

"It is considered to be desirable in the promotion of administrative effectiveness and efficiency that there should be a salary differential between those—state H. C. Hall, similar to that in executive positions and those of the department heads. The in other groupings . . ." stated manager recommended that his Mr. Wyatt.

Also included in the requests was one from police court magistrate H. C. Hall, similar to that manager recommended that his request be similarly dealt with.

Budget Cuts Cigarette Tax

Nor is their any change in consumer-credit regulations.

Mr. Abbott, delivering his 16,000-word budget speed before an intent Chamber and thronged public galleries, announced that he is budgeting for a surplus of $9,000,000, based on revenues of $4,279,000,000 and expenditures of $4,270,000,000.

Taking a peek into the tax future, he warned the taxpayers not to expect much by way of lower taxes next year "unless conditions at home exceed even my generous expectations and unless the clouds that overhang the international scene lift more rapidly."

He sliced the taxes on soft drinks, cutting the special excise tax on pop to 15 per cent from 30 and the levy on carbonic acid to 25 cents a pound from 50, but officials said they think that hard-pressed manufacturers will absorb the benefit. The annual revenue loss here is $11,000,000.

In reducing the cigarette tax, he acknowledged that the rate appears to have reached the point of diminishing return. Revenue from cigarettes went down $1,000,000 last year. The tax on raw leaf tobacco was cut by three-quarters of a cent an ounce. Annual revenue loss from these reductions: $11,000,000.

The general 10-per-cent sales tax was left untouched, except for minor exemptions. Liquor taxes stay as they are.

For business, the corporation tax on companies generating electricity, steam or gas will be limited to a maximum of 43 per cent, compared with the general corporation tax of 50 per cent.

Crown companies which compete with private industry, tax-exempt up to now, will pay normal corporation taxes.

Tax deductions allowed for exploration costs of petroleum, natural gas and mining industries are extended for another year and the three-year exemption for new mines was extended to mines starting production in 1955.

Some modifications, reductions and additions were made in tariff schedules.

Mr. Abbott recalled that a year ago he had described his budget as a "provisional tax program" with the expectation that the outlook at home and abroad would become clearer. While the future was not free of uncertainty, the prospects now were sufficient to justify moving towards a more stable pattern in the tax structure.

Then he warned:

"While we will continue to press for maximum economies the only reasonable expectation we can have of real reductions in tax load must lie either in a lesser need for defense expenditure or in the steady increase in the wealth and incomes of our people, so that the present actual weight of taxation becomes a relatively lighter burden."

Through the incorporation of the surcharge into the rate structure, Mr. Abbott will lose $40,000,000 of revenue for the 1952-53 fiscal year and $65,00,000 for a full year.

However, the social-security tax will bring in $52,000,000 in a full year.

Mr. Abbott said he also plans to make some further technical changes in the special tax system introduced for the armed forces last year. Experience had disclosed certain problems.

While the Successions Duty Act needed overhauling, it was left unchanged except for technical amendments.

All Provinces Except Two In Tax Pact

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said tonight it now appears "probable" that all provinces except Ontario and Quebec will sign new taxation agreements with the federal government.

The two central provinces also declined to enter 1947 agreements which expired March 31 last.

Under the agreements, the provinces give the federal government almost exclusive use of the personal income, corporation and inheritance tax fields. In return they receive annual federal payments based on population and the value of gross national production.

The last of a series of federal offers to the provinces was made Jan. 15 in a letter from Mr. Abbott to provincial premiers. It provided for adjustments that would boost payments to the eight agreeing provinces to $171,993,000. Payments in the last year of the agreements which expired March 31 are expected to total $137,216,000.

This is what the eight agreeing provinces are expected to receive in the first year of the new five-year agreements, with estimated payments in the last year of the expired agreements in brackets:

Newfoundland $12,244,000 ($9,651,000); Prince Edward Island $3,915,000 ($3,057,000); Nova Scotia $20,141,000 ($16,503,000); New Brunswick $16,615,000 ($13,490,000); Manitoba $24,588,000 ($20,035,000); Saskatchewan $24,626,000 ($20,747,000); Alberta $28,662,000 ($21,578,000); British Columbia $41,202,000 ($32,155,000).

In his budget speech, Mr. Abbott recalled that until December 31 last the eight provinces with agreements imposed a five-per-cent tax on corporate profits. The provinces signing new agreements no longer will impose a tax on corporations, but the former five-per-cent provincial tax will be added to the federal tax rate as from January 1, 1952.

Volunteers Lacking

FORT HOOD, Tex., April 6 (NANA).—A hand-made set of experimental anti-personnel-mine footpads is attracting the attention of officers at a quartermaster's display in Exercise Long Horn's manoeuvre headquarters. Weighing about four pounds each, 10 by 20 inches in size and with rounded ends, they look like giant snowshoes.

The wearer's foot straps to an inch-thick aluminum plate which is separated by an air pocket from a 1½-inch-thick layer of foam rubber which forms the boot's giant surface. The theory is that, by distributing the wearer's weight over a large area, it may not be sufficient to trip the mine's release.

So far, no one has volunteered to test the boots.

Oddities

PHILADELPHIA, April 8 (AP)—New social horizons opened before the habitual dunker today—a doughnut with a handle.

A "new utilitarian tennis-racquet model" made its debut in city hall courtyard. It was given a test run by the first contributor to the 1952 Salvation Army drive. He also received a free cup of coffee to slosh around in.

The handle, about three inches long, is an extension of the doughnut itself. After eating down to the handle, the dunker apparently is on his own again.

MOBILE, Ala., April 8 (AP)—A new ship will be ready for Capt. Kurt Carlsen when the "stay-put" skipper arrives here late this week. The Ibrandtsen Co., Inc., is preparing the Flying Enterprise II, recently returned from military sea transportation service in Korea.

I.W.A. Plans Campaign For Contract

VANCOUVER, April 8 (CP)—The International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) this week will start a drive for a 35-cents-hourly wage increase and four other major contract demands.

The demands will be sent to Forest Industrial Relations, negotiator for the operators, Stewart Alchuson, B.C. [illegible] said tonight.

A reply from F.I.R. must be received by April 15. The contract requires bargaining must start 60 days before the expiration time, midnight June 14.

The present basic laborer wage is $1.29½ hourly plus a cost-of-living bonus of 14 cents. An additional 35 cents would bring this up to $1.78½.

Other major demands include payment for statutory and special holidays, establishment of a health and welfare plan financed by employers but administered by union trustees, payment for travel time from point of assembly and return, and the union shop.

Western Official Predicts Russian Concession Offer

BONN, April 8 (AP)—A high western official predicted today Russia will offer the west some big concessions before May 1 in a new effort to neutralize Germany and under-cut the North Atlantic defense program.

This official—a senior Allied authority in Germany—said most Allied and German leaders are convinced the Soviet bid will go far beyond any previous offers to discuss east-west differences.

Their estimate, he said, is that Russian [illegible]

1. Accept western demands for free, national elections in Germany as the forerunner of a four-power peace treaty with Germany, or

2. Dramatically play its ace in the hole—offer to negotiate the question of eastern territories Germany lost to Poland and Russia at Potsdam.

Western and German leaders believe the Russians are more likely to agree to the free elections, probably proposing supervision of the voting by the Big Four powers and excluding United Nations supervision, this official said.

The Communists already have barred from East Germany the U.N. committee to investigate the possibility of free, all-German elections.

The official view here is that the Russians will propose reviving the four-power election machinery under which the 1946 elections in Berlin were held. This system worked. The Communists lost and it might be difficult for the west to argue against voting in all of Germany under the same conditions.

The high Allied official said the Russian proposal is expected before May 1 in a direct bid to block the signing of the Allied-West German peace contract, intended to seal the political partnership of Britain, the United States, France and the West German Republic.

Uphill Candidate In Fernie Again

FERNIE, B.C., April 8 (CP)—Labor's candidate for Fernie riding in the coming British Columbia general election is Tom Uphill, who has represented the coal-mining area for 32 years.

"We are out to win again," said Fernie's mayor following a nominating meeting here last night.

Flower Petal Rolls

Soften 2 cakes yeast in ¼ cup lukewarm water. Scald 1 cup milk. Add ¼ cup shortening, ½ cup sugar and 1 tsp. salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add 3 cups sifted Kitchen Craft Flour to make thick batter. Add yeast, 3 beaten eggs and 2 tsp. lemon rind. Beat well. Add about 3 more cups sifted Kitchen Craft Flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny.

Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise in a warm place till doubled in bulk. When light, punch down. Roll out part of dough on a lightly floured surface, to ¼" thickness. Cover lightly with waxed paper; allow to rest 15 minutes. Cut into 2" squares. Overlap four of these around each well-greased muffin cup, points extending above top.

Shape 1" balls from remaining dough and place one in center of each cup. Top with piece of cooked fruit (peaches, apricots or prunes). Let rise till double in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) about 20 minutes. Brush with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Yield: about 2 doz. medium rolls.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 1952

Mr. Abbott Wants More

IN a budget for 1952-53 with estimated revenues of $4,279,000,000, estimated expenditures of $4,270,000,000 and a fictional surplus of $9,000,000, Finance Minister Abbott has not one word to say where the ordinary expenses of the nation would be cut this year to make way for growing defense costs. His accounting when analysed is a straight bill for more; more from personal incomes, more from most corporations and more from freshly taxed commodities, set off for the most part against reductions where last year the Dominion overplayed its hand and collected less from increased rates. As actual collections will rest on "averaged" years, cancelling additions and subtractions and other adjustments, in advance of the facts not even Mr. Abbott's figures can be more than plain guesswork.

The concessions now coming a few cents on cigarettes and the like, reduced rates on soda water, easement of excise taxes on motor cars, luxuries, household appliances, etc., and a lower maximum for utility corporations producing gas, steam or electricity, constitute the Dominion's bow to the consumer trade and, simultaneously, a further modified degree of inflation. But for the most part Mr. Abbott's budget will be as events show it to be in their working out. The income surcharge is being hidden, but will continue. A 2 per cent social security levy is mounted on top, and a few high-level, exceptional medical expenses taken off at the other end. As for the nominal surplus of $9,000,000, one doubts if even Mr. Abbott will take that seriously, after the results of the last two years.

Future Need Should Govern

IN defending the provincial government's decision to make all highway traffic into Victoria share Douglas Street, an official of the public works department made one revealing comment. After denying that the single-spout plan would cause congestion on Douglas Street, he admitted that the Fountain Circle, put in by the city at considerable expense a short time ago, would have to be straightened out. Then the anonymous official added the significant remark, "but that's the city's problem."

It certainly is. That is precisely what we maintain: that if the government is allowed to go ahead with the single outlet project the city council will have a traffic problem on its hands at the Fountain and Saanich Council another one at the Douglas-Regina junction likely to defy their engineers and traffic experts. From the look of things neither council can expect much help from the province when the time comes to wrestle with the traffic troubles now being prepared for them.

Victoria has waited more than four years for work to start on the promised new highway outlets; but even though the need is becoming more pressing all the time it would be better to defer the matter a little while longer to enable new plans to be laid, than to inflict on the district now an inadequate system that would be difficult and extremely costly to remedy later. This is the time to take stock of the ultimate consequences, before contracts are let.

The worst mistake that could be made would be to measure future highway outlet needs by present-day traffic density. For that matter the volume of traffic between the city and other Island points, and between the city and Saanich Peninsula, already exceeds the capacity of two main outlets. Lump all that traffic onto one street, with two misshapen separation points; add the heavy annual increase in highway use brought about by the tourist and industrial development of the Island, and the resultant congestion a few years hence, if not immediately, should not be hard to visualize.

The government does not seem to care how much trouble it inflicts on the city and Saanich authorities in order to save a few thousand dollars by utilizing Douglas Street for airport and Saanich Peninsula traffic. If the job of reconstructing highway outlets is worth doing, it is worth doing in a sound and practical way with an eye to future more than immediate requirements. The makeshift that is planned might save a few dollars now; but at what cost later on? The single-spout plan is entirely without vision, ignoring future requirements.

They Think It's a Sea Serpent!

THE Vancouver Sun reports with no little pride that the mainland city, at long last, has a sea serpent of its own. It is about time. Victoria is tired of having its immortal Caddy borrowed, even in imagination. So often it has been alleged that he had been seen romping in English Bay, an insult sufficient to drive any self-respecting sea serpent right down to Davy Jones' locker for protection.

It is true, the Sun laments, that this Burrard Inlet creature is only some 20 feet long, but give it time to grow the paper pleads, give it time. We will, confident that never will it compare with the splendid proportions of Cadborosaurus, recognized the world over as the finest marine specimen of its kind.

This new Vancouver denizen, spotted near the Second Narrows Bridge by a man said not to have "touched a drop for years," is described as being "a great coiled beast, eel-shaped, with a leering head." A most typical description this, especially the leer, and one that marks the creature as being native to its habitat. We wish Vancouver joy with this apology for the real thing.

Just to demonstrate what a real sea serpent looks like Caddy made one of his periodic appearances in Cadboro Bay this week. As usual he was in excellent form, throwing back his massive horse's head and splashing about happily until he noticed the camera in the hands of an onlooker. Then his customary modesty made him head seawards at full speed, without, alas, leaving his picture behind.

Strange how it is that cameras freeze when Caddy appears. We would so like to send his picture to the Vancouver Sun, just in encouragement.

LONG TON, 2,240 LBS.

Sir,—In a recent issue you state that 2200 lbs. is one long ton. Is this correct?

I was taught at school some 50 years ago that 28 lbs. was 1 qr., 4 qrs. 1 cwt., 20 cwt. 1 ton.

Which is correct; has this been changed since my time or is it a misprint on your part?

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Sir,—Would you kindly publish the following letter as a warning to auto courts and landlords.

I would not like either of them to experience what I have experienced during the past winter. Especially if they depend on their rentals for a living. Not be able to collect a cent rent for six months; have a large hole cut through one of your partitions; have your sink torn out and another one improperly replaced. Then on top of all this to have to pay $75 to have them evicted. Then on the day of the eviction to find your place left in a terrible mess. Don't make the mistake that I made. Don't be afraid to ask a few questions.

ISLAND HIGHWAY

Sir,—I have been reading with great interest all the letters re the new highway out of Victoria, and have also listened to it being discussed over Tel-O-Pinion on the radio.. I believe that the majority are in favor of the route as far out as where it meets the present highway, just before reaching Parsons bridge. But so many are complaining about the strip from there to Colwood Corner.

Having lived beyond this corner for over three years, I am quite familiar with this strip. I have also watched survey work being done, and with the exception of Parsons bridge, which is too narrow, and Colwood Corner itself, you have no other hazards to contend with except poor or drunken drivers as it is practically straight the remainder of the way.

Now if those who have been "beefing" only realized that Parsons bridge will have to be widened to 24 feet (T.C. Highway minimum); or else replaced by a new bridge northwest of Six Mile House, should the decision be to run the new road just on the other side of Six Mile House. If they also only realized that the survey party have surveyed a diagonal cut-off to eliminate Colwood Corner, then maybe they wouldn't "beef" so much.

PROVINCIAL SALARIES

Sir,—So the Civil Servants are asking for higher salaries, as though they were not well compensated already. Why with Easter almost upon us, when the Buildings will be closed from Thursday night until Tuesday morning, to say nothing of Christmas, New Year's and all the other long week ends, surely they could not hope for further increases.

The provincial secretary promised us when the last increases were given that each department would be investigated and reductions made when possible. I wonder just if this was to beguile the public, and if the departments haven't rather been augmented.

The taxpayer is the one who pays the bill and it is just about time considerable paring in all departments was done.

Surely the members of the rump government's cabinet would not operate their own business on the same basis. If they were sincere and had the public welfare at heart they would effect economies, rather than these extravagances.

View Royal, B.C. (MRS.) E. CLOTHIER.

FOOD SUBSIDY

Sir,—The U.K. pays $1,200,000,000 in food subsidies per annum plus all its consequent cost and detail of back scratching, red tape and bureaucracy.

It is no wonder she is in trouble, had Mr. Churchill continued in office in 1946 such bureaucratic nonsense would not have been tolerated, it only defeats its own purpose finally.

We in Canada should refuse to accept government interference with the laws of supply and demand, and stop the pegging and fixing of prices by both provincial and federal governments. Our democratic way of life is in jeopardy unless our several governments stand firmly against each of the many selfish minority pressure groups whose demands interfere with free enterprise, or are not in the best interests of the citizens as a whole.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

WHAT'S in a name, remarked Juliet, but the poor girl had never seen a hockey game—and thus recognized the aptness of Cougars when applied to Roger Leger and his merry men. As the sports writers put it these days Cotnoir, Dorohoy, et al have simply clawed their way into the final play-off. Away back when the first Cougars came into being I suppose it would be this characteristic of the Island's biggest cat that persuaded Lester Patrick to so christen his club.

What's in a name, indeed! There are the Quakers, now, who are not a bit friendly despite the label they wear but seem rather to be feeling their oats, which of course is not inappropriate since their title deed stems from oats. What induced Tacoma to call themselves Rockets, however, I've no idea. Rather a risky venture this. A cougar can claw to the very last minute but a rocket in eclipse is rather a damp squib.

* * *

Hockey club titles, like ship names, are an interesting mixture. Give a team a resounding caption and the players are infected. They try to live up to it. As per the Edmonton Flyers, who flew high enough until someone cut the parachute cord and they fell out of the picture. Royal has a fine distinguished sound about it, and it must be conceded that New Westminster's hockey Royals bore themselves royally, as befits the representatives of the royal city. The players I mean, not the fans, who seldom do anywhere. At the last game in the Memorial Arena I heard a Victoria supporter say disgustedly of his fellow fans: "They don't like Davis, they don't like Powers, they don't like Knott—who the deuce do they like?" Poor referees, what names they are called on to bear!

One knows how come Calgary icemen are Stampeders, sporting groups in the Alberta foothills being unable to think of any other name, but why Ironmen of Seattle? They have not been noticeably iron-like. I daresay, though, some titles are just drawn out of a hat, for how else can one account for the Red Wings of Detroit and the Black Hawks of Chicago. For the latter Chicago Bulls might have seemed more in keeping.

Rangers is a common sporting term and there are Texas Rangers and the Lone Ranger and such like, which may have led New York to believe they would range all over the N.H.L. if they adopted such a designation. Bruins for Boston, however, is infelicitous for the home of pedants and pride.

* * *

Let us consider now those two great rivals the Maple Leafs and the Canadiens. Conny Smythe was inspired when he gave its proud title to his Toronto club, and successive hockey teams in his famous Gardens have been equally fired by national ardor. Perhaps I should say half-national since Montreal supplies the other half. The Canadiens name was automatic and none other could fit them so well. Incidentally if there must be two kinds of Canadians—Canadiens and Canadians—then Canadien is a much happier choice than French-Canadian.

By the same token if Vancouver's Canucks aim to be representative Canadians they had much better call themselves that, for Canucks is an unpretty abbreviation and apparently not particularly lucky. They might be wise to return to the old name of Lions.

Other things than names link hockey clubs, and thus the Cougars have some Canadiens in their ranks and where would we be without them? Which seems a good spot to add that if it's true Roger Leger is not coming back to us next year here is one Canadien who will be greatly missed. Victorians breathe a sigh of relief every time he steps back onto the ice, a comment that needs no adornment.

What's in a name, indeed! Quite a lot, my dear Juliet, as you found out yourself and as Quakers or Rockets will, too, I hope, before the Cougars stop clawing.

U.S. Envious of Canada's Dollar

By DONALD McCORMICK,
From London

"CANADA has a good dollar. More and more it is making our dollar look like a 50-cent piece, which is about what our dollar is here at home.

"Every now and then you hear people say Canada should be taken into the United States. Maybe we ought to reverse that and say, 'Please, Canada, take us in.'"

What country makes this plea? The dollar-mighty United States of America. Who says it? The New York Daily Mirror.

This quotation from a leading United States newspaper gives you some idea of just how high Canada's stock is today—high enough to make the richest country in the world talk wistfully of its neighbor's currency.

Canada, after weathering the depression years of the 'twenties and 'thirties, has become the most prosperous member of the British Commonwealth. This is no flash-in-the-pan prosperity. There lies ahead a vista of increasing prosperity, and increasing production.

While the United States has reached the zenith of its own development, Canada has vast acres of undeveloped land. The oilfields of Alberta have only just been tapped. There is much more oil yet to be made available.

Second, since the war Canada has encouraged investment in her national development, but there is more to it than this. Canada's technical brains have decided that a great battle has to be fought with nature before all these schemes can be made to work.

Hence, some of the most ambitious projects of the century—the plan to harness the tides to create hydraulic power, the Labrador iron project to tap the unsearched hinterland of bleak Labrador, and, at the other end of the country, in British Columbia, the creation of the Aluminum Company of Canada.

This company, in which millions of British capital is invested, has chosen an obscure village called Kitimat as the site of the world's largest aluminum smelter. Fifty miles south of Kitimat across the coastal mountains, men are boring a hole in the mountains in which hydro-electric generators will be installed.

This bombproof power plant in the mountains is one of Canada's greatest engineering feats. The power of this installation will help produce 500,000 tons of aluminum a year.

Everywhere nature is being subdued in the cause of developing Canada's untapped mineral riches. Apart from the oil finds in Alberta, the plans to make natural gas available to industry will enable a large number of firms to establish themselves in mid-Canada. Natural gas is raw material for such industries as plastics, synthetic rubber, and cellulose.

In Northern Saskatchewan, uranium is being mined. In the past access to this territory, at the headwaters of the Athabasca River, was restricted to boats in summer and tractor trains in winter. Now an all-the-year-round landing strip has been built, and roads are planned.

These are just a few examples of Canadian enterprise. They are costing vast sums which, as elsewhere in the world, are forcing up the cost of living, but few other nations could maintain so high a standard of living and, at the same time, find the money for development on so unparalleled a scale.

Canadians have the knowledge that eventually the money being spent will enable them to produce more, and so reduce that cost of living. In Alberta, for example, they reckon there is so much oil that all the gold held in Fort Knox could not buy it.

Canada lacks the equipment and the technicians to put all her schemes into being, and to develop all her resources. She also needs outside capital—strange as that may seem for so rich a nation. So far, the majority of these requirements have been met by the United States.

If Russia Owned Alaska

(From The Halifax Chronicle-Herald)

IN a speech delivered in Toronto the other day Vice-Admiral Mainguy revealed that Russia has now between 300 and 400 submarines, is building 100 more of advanced type, and envisaged construction of 1,000.

Since Germany started the last war with only 60 and managed nearly to strangle the Allies, it is understandable that the Russian build-up should be viewed with alarm. Besides sinking ships, Admiral Mainguy warned, "they can land sabotage parties on unwatched coasts. They can lay mines in the approaches to harbors . . . they can also bombard shore objectives."

And how much more effectively they could accomplish those designs in case of war had they bases on this side of the Pacific. It is an arresting coincidence that the Admiral's warning should have been given within a few days of the anniversary of the United States purchase of Alaska from Russia. On March 30, 1867—just 85 years ago—that vast land on Canada's northwest changed hands. Nearly 600,000 square miles were added to the domain of the United States.

The deal was far from popular below the border where it was described as "Seward's Folly" and the new possession described as an "ice-box". And Canadians themselves didn't take any too kindly to the transaction. Through the years many have wished that the long finger of Alaska did not extend so far down the coast of British Columbia.

This historic land purchase was made only a few months before Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario united to form the Dominion of Canada. And perhaps it is understandable that in the interest created by this great event the Alaskan purchase should have been accorded so little appreciation.

But it is different now. How thankful Canadians may be that it is the United States that owns Alaska—including that long finger of land running down the west coast of British Columbia. Imagine our feelings if the Russian submarines which Admiral Mainguy has been talking about were able to use their own bases on this continent. If Russian troops could manœuvre within a few miles of British Columbia's cities, if Communist colonies lay near the Yukon border.

And yet, had it not been for the wisdom of William H. Seward, those would be the factors with which we would have to reckon today. Defense under such circumstances would be a problem, indeed!

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

A NEW style in lipstick gives the girls the expression of smelling a bad smell. They start at the centre of the upper lip and draw two lobes upward and outward towards the corners of the nose. To them, seated before the mirror, it may appear to be a polite sort of sneer such as becomes a lady surrounded by Humphrey Bogarts on every hand. But to the ordinary beholder, it conveys the impression that the lady is saying "Phee-ew".

If you glance about you at lunch time in a restaurant, you will be startled to perceive that most of the feminine customers appear to have got something bad in their sandwiches.

Most of the fashions in lipstick painting come from the movies. For years, during the heyday of Katherine Hepburn, the girls gave themselves large, truculent lower lips. One after another, the famous stars have taken their turn in fashioning the mouths of the world. Not every girl can model her hair-do on the stars'. Hair has to come half way in such an enterprise. Hair is blonde or brunette, or just in between. Hair is thick or thin, long or short, straight or curly, crisp or slank.

But any old mouth will do for a paint job. And thus we see the same mouth on girls with round faces and long faces, lean or fat, concave or convex, pointed or, to put it bluntly, blunt. Though they go to extremes in order to have different hats from all other women, and are most disconcerted to meet anyone wearing the same dress or coat, they study to have the same mouth.

It will be a relief when they get past this ill-smelling vogue. We men can hardly be blamed for taking something personal out of it. Katy Hepburn is back on the screen with a new picture. We can hope for an epidemic pout in the near future.

New Service Centre Heralds Bright Era for City's Blind

BY BARNEY McKINLEY

A bright new era is dawning for Victoria's sightless people.

New skills and interests will soon be opened to them through the operation of the recently-opened Canadian National Institute for the Blind service centre at 1609 Blanshard Street.

First enterprise of its kind in this city's history, the service centre will be devoted to a training and educational program to help the blind become independent.

Last word in modern brightness, beauty and utility, the service centre, from its glass-fronted showroom with recessed inside flower beds to the copper reed-soaking tub in the workshop, is designed to help the sightless find a way through life.

UNIQUE PROJECTS

Some of the projects planned are unique in British Columbia, perhaps in Canada. Chief among these is the project to translate songs and stories of Canada into Braille so that sightless readers may enjoy the voice and lore of their native land.

Both sighted and blind workers are already engaged on this project in the service centre study room.

Here too, the lessons in Braille and the colorfully named Moon-style of reading will be taught. The Moon-style is simply a system of raised letters, less flexible than braille dots, but more easily felt by the fingers of the elderly.

Down the hall from the study room is a cheerful lounge, furnished with chesterfields, tables, books in braille and a radio-phonograph. This is a room which the officials of the service centre want especially stressed.

WORK PLAN

Miss Dorothy Stark, field secretary for the C.N.I.B. here, whose office is in the service centre, said yesterday the hope was to help Victoria blind manufacture the type of goods now being displayed in the centre showrooms.

Most of the goods now on display were made in other blind people's workrooms in Western Canada.

Financed by the Community Chest, the centre owes much to private business contributors who helped—with furniture and decoration and to sighted volunteers who help with the work, Miss Stark said.

It is scheduled to play an important part in future life of the sightless in this city, providing a quiet spot among friends where they may rest and talk.

CONCERTS, PARTIES

The new building also houses an auditorium where concerts, card parties and dances will be held. It will be a focal point for the social gatherings which will help brighten the lives of the blind.

Already scheduled for the auditorium are the weekly meetings of the White Cane Club.

But chief interest at the service centre, as its program gets under way, is the work room. This is the place where the sightless can be taught skills which may make them self-supporting.

Blazing the trail that will soon be followed by other sightless workers is Alan J. Browning now sole occupant of the centre's work room.

He is a skilled workman whose wicker, rush and cane work enables him to earn $50 to $75 a month, "though I put in long hours."

RARE AILMENT

Victim of a rare progressive type of eye ailment, he began to lose his sight in 1926 just as he was about to start a career as an electrical engineer.

In the space of three years he was down to 25 per cent vision—then the rate of decline slowed up as is the nature of his ailment.

But by 1944 he was down to 10 per cent vision. Nowadays it is about two per cent. In other words, he can distinguish between night and day—that's all.

But he is typical of the new independent spirit that the service centre hopes to foster. Now 50 years old, he is more cheerful than the average sighted wage earner and takes pride in the fact that a pension would be less than his earnings.

Sightless craftsman Alan J. Browning and Miss Dorothy Stark, blind teacher of the blind, examine special clock with raised studs. On chair is rule with notches designed for sightless builders.

NOTICE TO BUS PASSENGERS

As requested by Victoria city, the following changes in bus stops will become effective Wednesday (April 9).

Present city terminal stop at Johnson and Douglas for Esquimalt, Colville and Munro buses will be discontinued and these buses will use the stop on Yates at Douglas as their terminus.

The existing stop on Yates at Douglas (front of Birks) for Beacon Hill and Cadboro Bay buses will be discontinued. Beacon Hill buses will use the stop on the west side of Douglas. Cadboro Bay buses will turn onto Douglas and use the bus stop in front of the Majorette Cafe.

Ontario Tars Look Over U.S. Fleet

BY MICHAEL GIRAUD
(News and Special Events, Station CKWX, Vancouver)

ON BOARD H.M.C.S. ONTARIO.—Palm trees were swaying and a hot sun was shining as this cruiser entered the huge American naval base of Pearl Harbor Monday. It marks the end of the first leg of the warship's first training cruise of the summer.

There is a theme of co-operation between Canada and the United States, with men of this ship visiting units of the U.S. fleet, many of them fresh from the Korean war zone.

During the next few days the Canadian navy men will participate in anti-submarine exercises, firefighting, and emergency ship handling.

As the Ontario entered Pearl Harbor her great guns fired a 21-gun salute, and it was answered by the naval base. There were wolf-calls aplenty from men aboard this ship as a hula troupe did its stuff on the jetty. A U.S.N. band played lively numbers as we neared the dock.

Strict security regulations have been imposed on all officers and men of the ship. They were required to register all cameras, and have been told what type of picture may be taken in the naval base area. Everyone has been issued special passes.

For some Ontario men this visit to the Hawaiian Islands has reunited or renewing old acquaintances; for others it is a completely new and thrilling experience.

Capt. David Carmichaels, who heads the ship's dental clinic, is among these making their first visit to this mid-Pacific base. He is "seeing everything I can in the area and getting some souvenirs for my wife and child."

Credit Reins Not Relaxed

OTTAWA, April 8 (BUP).—Finance Minister D. C. Abbott reports that tight consumer credit regulations will be relaxed "as soon as it seems sensible to do so."

Abbott credited the severe restraints on consumer credit with playing an important part in reducing inflationary pressures, and encouraging Canadians to bank more money.

"These regulations were admittedly severe," he said, "but the inflationary pressures were such that strong measures were needed. As these pressures eased we were able to relax the regulations to some extent. I keep these matters under frequent review, and as soon as it seems sensible to do so we shall relax them again."

Budget Disappoints City Labor Circles

"It's not what it could be."

This comment by Victor Midgley, international representative for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) seemed to sum up the trade unionists' reaction to Finance Minister Douglas Abbott's budget pronouncements last night.

Mr. Midgley expressed disappointment over personal income tax changes but added that the [illegible] ductions was an improvement.

"The budget on the whole was not what it could be. There's not sufficient relief for the man with a family," Mr. Midgley said.

Edward Haw, International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) organizer, said he felt some provision should have been made to spur the housing program, particularly in the face of the present immigration program.

OFFERED NOTHING

"The budget didn't offer us anything," he said.

The budget was not as good as it could be, was the comment of Jack Cornthwaite, business agent of the Machinists' Union (C.C.L.).

He said he was not too happy about "only a three-cent reduction in cigarette prices."

With a past tremendous surplus, Elgin Neish, United and Allied Fishermen's Union (T.L.C.), said he couldn't see what the finance minister had in mind. The budget apparently will only create another surplus, he said.

"The government is not letting up on anyone," he added.

In peacetime Mr. Neish couldn't see the need for present taxes and said that a man should be tax exempt for what it costs him to live, Mr. Neish added.

PAYDAY SHOCK

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (CP)—Workers here feared the worst when pound notes in their pay envelopes had no metal thread running through the paper, a device introduced in 1940 as a safeguard against forgery. But the notes were simply old stock, still good.

B.C. Crown Agencies Unaffected by Budget

British Columbia's publicly-owned businesses probably will not be affected by new tax regulations announced in the federal budget last night.

Finance Minister Douglas Abbott announced that Crown corporations in competition with private enterprise, which up to now have been tax-exempt, will now have to pay federal corporation taxes.

But authoritative provincial government sources said no B.C. agency comes under the new ruling.

Some of the principal government-operated businesses are the B.C. Power Commission, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the B.C. Liquor Control Board and the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

A power commission spokesman said last night that the power commission is not in competition with private companies. He said the commission serves some parts of the province and private enterprise serves others. There is no place where the two compete for business.

The P.G.E. may eventually be subject to the new tax. At the moment there is no transportation company competing with the railway.

A government legal authority said the P.G.E. might some day be considered liable for corporation taxes, but only if it starts making money against competition. Last year the railway made a slight operating profit for the first time in 40 years, but it is still laboring under an overwhelming burden of debt.

The liquor board competes only with bootleggers and cannot be considered a Crown corporation, this authority said. The board is simply an arm of government.

Neither is the Hospital Insurance Service a Crown corporation, he said. It is merely a government agency which has a virtual monopoly, although two classes of B.C. citizens—employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. and the B.C. Telephone Co.—subscribe to their own hospital services.

Vancouver Firemen Paid More Than City's

Compared with firemen in Vancouver, Burnaby and New Westminster, Victoria's firemen are poorly paid, Hugh Bird, president of the Vancouver local of the Firefighters' Union, told a conciliation board yesterday.

Mr. Bird presented the case for the city's 95-man fire force which is seeking pay boosts of $50 a month.

A Victoria first class fireman receives $57.89 a month less than a Vancouver fireman, Mr. Bird said, and in 1945 they were almost equal.

The Vancouver delegate presented his brief before a board consisting of H. W. Davey, Q.C., Bernard M. Isman, chairman and Halford Wilson.

Speaking on behalf of the city, Cecil Wyatt, city manager, argued that the parity with Vancouver was not a valid argument because the cities were dissimilar.

In Vancouver, he said, taxable assessments from industrial properties made up 30 per cent of the total and in Victoria it was only 25 per cent.

The disparity was paralleled in the taxpayers' ability to pay in the two cities, he said.

The board will consider the two briefs and may bring down an award next week. The conciliation board's decision will be mandatory on both parties as firemen and policemen are not permitted to strike under the Conciliation Act.

The Amazing Mr. Churchill

A Fascinating Portrait of The World's Great Statesman

Winston Churchill has done more to shape the history of the world than any other man alive. He has lived the fullest and most extraordinary life of modern times. He has held more posts in the British Government than any other man ever has or probably ever will. And he has had enough careers outside of government to keep a dozen men busy. In two centuries he has been up and down, in power and out, and in turn the most popular and unpopular man in England. His life story is stranger—and more fascinating — than fiction. Read "Young Winston's Follies" in this week's Saturday Evening Post. It's a story that every Canadian will want to read and reread. Start The Amazing Mr. Churchill by Robert Lewis Taylor.

Budget Disappoints City Labor Circles

"It's not what it could be"

This comment by Victor Midgley, international representative for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) seemed to sum up the trade unionists' reaction to Finance Minister Douglas Abbott's budget pronouncements last night.

Mr. Midgley expressed disappointment over personal income tax changes but added that the change in medical expenses deductions was an improvement.

"The budget on the whole was not what it could be. There's not sufficient relief for the man with a family," Mr. Midgley said.

Edward Haw, International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) organizer, said he felt some provision should have been made to spur the housing program, particularly in the face of the present immigration program.

OFFERED NOTHING

"The budget didn't offer us anything," he said.

The budget was not as good as it could be, was the comment of Jack Cornthwaite, business agent of the Machinists' Union (C.C.L.).

He said he was not too happy about "only a three-cent reduction" in cigarette prices.

With a past tremendous surplus, Elgin Neish, United and Allied Fishermen's Union (T.L.C.), said he couldn't see what the finance minister had in mind. The budget apparently will only create another surplus, he said.

"The government is not letting up on anyone," he added.

In peacetime Mr. Neish couldn't see the need for present taxes and said that a man should be tax exempt for what it costs him to live, Mr. Neish added.

PAYDAY SHOCK

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (CP) — Workers here feared the worst when pound notes in their pay envelopes had no metal thread running through the paper, a device introduced in 1940 as a safeguard against forgery. But the notes were simply old stock, still good.

The Amazing Mr. Churchill

A Fascinating Portrait of The World's Great Statesman

Winston Churchill has done more to shape the history of the world than any other man alive. He has lived the fullest and most extraordinary life of modern times. He has held more posts in the British Government than any other man ever has or probably ever will. And he has had enough careers outside of government to keep a dozen men busy. In two centuries he has been up and down, in power and out, and in turn the most popular and unpopular man in England. His life story is stranger—and more fascinating — than fiction. Read "Young Winston's Follies" in this week's Saturday Evening Post. It's a story that every Canadian will want to read and reread. Start The Amazing Mr. Churchill by Robert Lewis Taylor.

B.C. Crown Agencies Unaffected by Budget

British Columbia's publicly-owned businesses probably will not be affected by new tax regulations announced in the federal budget last night.

Finance Minister Douglas Abbott announced that Crown corporations in competition with private enterprise, which up to now have been tax-exempt, will now have to pay federal corporation taxes.

But authoritative provincial government sources said no B.C. agency comes under the new ruling.

Some of the principal government-operated businesses are the B.C. Power Commission, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the B.C. Liquor Control Board and the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

A power commission spokesman said last night that the power commission is not in competition with private companies. He said the commission serves some parts of the province and private enterprise serves others. There is no place where the two compete for business.

The P.G.E. may eventually be subject to the new tax. At the moment there is no transportation company competing with the railway.

A government legal authority said the P.G.E. might some day be considered liable for corporation taxes, but only if it starts making money against competition. Last year the railway made a slight operating profit for the first time in 40 years, but it is still laboring under an overwhelming burden of debt.

The liquor board competes only with bootleggers and cannot be considered a Crown corporation, this authority said. The board is simply an arm of government.

Neither is the Hospital Insurance Service a Crown corporation, he said. It is merely a government agency which has a virtual monopoly, although two classes of B.C. citizens — employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. and the B.C. Telephone Co. — subscribe to their own hospital services.

Vancouver Firemen Paid More Than City's

Compared with firemen in Vancouver, Burnaby and New Westminster, Victoria's firemen are poorly paid, Hugh Bird, president of the Vancouver local of the Firefighters' Union, told a conciliation board yesterday.

Mr. Bird presented the case for the city's 95-man fire force which is seeking pay boosts of $50 a month.

A Victoria first class fireman receives $57.89 a month less than a Vancouver fireman, Mr. Bird said, and in 1945 they were almost equal.

The Vancouver delegate presented his brief before a board consisting of H. W. Davey, Q.C., Bernard M. Isman, chairman and Halford Wilson.

Speaking on behalf of the city, Cecil Wyatt, city manager, argued that the parity with Vancouver was not a valid argument because the cities were dissimilar.

In Vancouver, he said, taxable assessments from industrial properties made up 50 per cent of the total and in Victoria it was only 25 per cent.

The disparity was paralleled in the taxpayers' ability to pay in the two cities, he said.

The board will consider the two briefs and may bring down an award next week. The conciliation board's decision will be mandatory on both parties as firemen and policemen are not permitted to strike under the Conciliation Act.

Harbor Group Picks Genge, Paulin Again

James Genge was re-elected chairman, and George Paulin, vice-chairman, of the Chamber of Commerce harbor development group at an annual meeting yesterday. Both were re-elected by acclamation.

In a general review of the past year's activities, secretary James Davis mentioned the group's special interest in harbor dredging, provision of log storage areas, extension of lumber storage space at Ogden Point docks, cleanliness of the Inner Harbor yacht basin, waterfront fire zones and the Point Ellice bridge.

It is hoped completion of the Inner Harbor dredging program will be accomplished in the current fiscal year. Money for this work, it was stated, is included in the new federal budget.

DREDGING FAVORED

Mention was made of proposed new log storage areas in the Selkirk water area—near several large auto courts. The latter businesses are opposed to extension of the storage area, claiming such action won't allow for a waterside approach to their premises. The City of Victoria has recommended that dredging be carried out between the log booming ground and the shoreline.

Capt. Ronald Newell, harbor master, didn't think there was much chance of that suggestion being fulfilled.

T. R. Denny, president-elect of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, paid tribute to the harbor group and described its work as vitally important.

COSTLY FISH

SALISBURY, S. Rhodesia (CP)—A man who promised to get some goldfish for his little daughter was fined £10 here for trying to net them at midnight from a restaurant's ornamental fish pond. A night watchman testified the intruder was armed with a butterfly net and bread crumbs as bait.

HISTORIC HOME

WICKHAM COURT, Eng. (CP)—Wickham Court Mansion may become a training college for school teachers. The historic edifice, once the home of Anne Boleyn, second wife of Henry VIII, was privately owned until the 1930's when it was converted into an hotel.

"Y" Official Due in City

Arnold Ward, of the national council of the Y.M.C.A., arrives in Victoria today on a tour of Y's throughout the continent.

Mr. Ward is vice-president of the adult program section of the Association of Secretaries of North America.

He will address the Y's Men's Club tonight, and on Thursday will meet Y staffs and give them information on nation-wide trends. He will leave for Seattle on Friday.

Work on Cafe To Begin Soon

Construction of a new building to house the Chez Marcel restaurant will start this summer.

Mrs. R. Cuche, proprietress, said she didn't know exactly when work would start but thought the building would be completed by October.

Until then, business will continue at the present Colwood Country Club site.

Bulldozers prepared the foundation site for the building last fall.

Cholera, a virulent disease of Asiatic origin, made its first appearance in Canada in 1832, claiming about 6,000 lives.

Start on Custom-Built Wheel-Chair Looms

Special wheel chair for legless Victoria newsie Thomas Ward may soon be under construction.

Ordered from an English firm, it will be paid for from a $1,500 fund collected and administered by the Elks' Lodge of Victoria.

The Elks took over the fund after generous Victoria citizens started volunteering contributions to buy a powered wheel chair to replace the battered old hand-powered tricycle Ward now uses.

He came to public attention after his plea on behalf of a handicapped pigeon was answered and the bird was operated on so it could feed properly. He feeds the city's pigeons twice daily from his tricycle newsstand.

APPROVED PURCHASE

The crippled newsie approved purchase of machine from the English firm, but vetoed a ready-made model because it was too wide for the doorways he must negotiate.

The wheels were also too small to negotiate the curbs he must cross in his news vending business.

Elks officers said they were waiting a reply from the United Kingdom firm on date of a delivery of a wheel chair built to Ward's specifications.

Twist was added to the story yesterday when Ward said he had discovered another pigeon with a malformed bill "not as bad as the first," which also was having trouble foraging.

He is feeding it by hand just as he did the one that was finally operated on to correct its bill.

Victoria Girl Dances to Win

Shirley Green, 17, of 1260 Transit Road, danced her way into a scholarship in the recent B.C. Dance Festival in Vancouver.

Winner in the senior ballet, she scored 95 points with her soft-shoe performance. She has been a pupil of the Wynne Shaw Dance Studio for several years.

Canadiens Reach Cup Final

Tillsonburg Squares Hoop Final

TILLSONBURG, Ont., April 8 (CP)—Tillsonburg Livingstons defeated Winnipeg Varsity Grads 70-56 tonight to even their Canadian senior men's best-of-five final series at one game each. The Winnipeggers won the first game 63-61 Monday night.

Tillsonburg never took a backward step after opening up a 20-16 lead in the opening quarter. They led 34-31 at the half and 51-43 at the three-quarter mark.

Plagued by the loss of men through fouls, the Livingstons had only one spare on the bench when the game ended. They lost Red Curran, Tommy Gibbons, Bob Phibbs and Paul Thomas in the hectic closing half but they had an ace in the hole under wraps.

He was Bill Coulthard, out of action for some time with a sprained ankle. Although he was not supposed to play, he stepped in when the squad ran low and hooped seven points in the fourth quarter.

Phibbs, who fouled out in the third quarter, turned in one of his better games to pace the homesters in scoring with 19 points.

Winnipeg—Ridd 11, Reid 8, Williams 14, Willett, Spark 8, Wood 10, Scott 2, Leyden, McCallion 3, Parent. Total—56.
Tillsonburg—Phibbs 19, Wade 15, Gibbons 2, Thomas 1, Coulthard 7, Campbell 2, Dalton 4, Simpson 11, Curran 2, Davidson. Total—70.

Eilers Near Dominion Hoop Title

VANCOUVER, April 8 (CP)—Vancouver Eilers broke a half-time deadlock tonight to whip Hamilton Zion Ramblers 32-28 and move within one game of the Canadian senior women's basketball championship.

Eilers won the opener 53-32 and the third game of the best-of-five series will be played tomorrow night.

The halftime score was 16-16.

Nearly half of the Hamilton scoring was done by Delores Ross, who broke through for a total of 13 points.

The low-scoring game was featured by close-checking by both sides.

Ramblers' defence kept the usually high-scoring McDermot sisters down to a total of 11 points.

Eilers presented a solid zone defence which stopped Ramblers cold. The eastern club rarely got close to the basket for layups by centre Jo Brennan who was held to one basket.

Line-ups:
Hamilton—Smethurst 2, Hawley 1, Brennan 2, McAndrew 6, Ross 13, Peall 4, Coles, Kurelek.
Vancouver—Slater 7, Milner 2, N. McDermot 7, D. McDermot 4, McDonald 3, Callaghan 8, Stoddart 8, Piper.

Ready for United Return Game

Return match between Courtenay United soccer team, shown above, and Victoria United will be played at Courtenay Sunday. Courtenay team gave favorable showing in first game and only lost 4-2 to Coast League club after holding Victorians scoreless in first half. Victoria United will also play Friday when it meets Victoria and District Football Association All-Stars at Royal Athletic Park. Courtenay players are, left to right: front row, Russ Rickson, Tom McArthur, Tom Wardrope (coach), Ron Webber (mascot), Frank Coates (captain), and Don Fenton; back row, Les Webber (manager), Jack Smith, Mike Murlak, Earl Woods, Ralph Kenney, Blackie Morrison, "Doc" Priestman (trainer) and Ray Harper.—(Photo by Ralph Fryer.)

Quakers May Use Right To Open at Home Arena

Manager Fred Hutchinson of Victoria Cougars stated last night that it will be known definitely some time today whether the Cougars will open their Pacific Coast Hockey League final series at home or on the road.

Tacoma Rockets and Saskatoon Quakers meet in the third game of their best-of-five semi-final at Tacoma tonight. Quakers, who won the first two games at Saskatoon easily, are favored to wind up the series either tonight or tomorrow. If a fifth game is necessary, it will be played at Saskatoon on Monday.

Tentative dates for the final providing Quakers oust Rockets either tonight or tomorrow, had the first two games of the final at Victoria Saturday and Monday. Hutchinson indicated last night that Quakers may exercise their right to have the first two games on their own ice. In that event, the series will open at Saskatoon Saturday with the second game on the same ice on Monday and the third, if the first two games are split, at the same location Wednesday.

Irregardless of the outcome of the Saskatoon-Tacoma series, tickets for the first two Cougar home games in the final will go on sale this afternoon. Ticket sales will commence at the hockey office at 2 o'clock with each customer limited to two tickets.

Season ticket holders will be required to pick up their ducats by 5 p.m. on the day prior to any scheduled playoff game.

Colwood Softball

The Colwood and District Softball League will hold its annual meeting Wednesday, April 16, at the Luxton Hall starting at 8 p.m.

All teams, senior and minor, are requested to have a representative present. Business will include the election of officers and discussion of plans for the coming season.

Two Sprinters May Be Added To Games Team

The Canadian Olympic Association set the men's 1952 track and field team at 16 competitors and two officials for the trip to Helsinki.

Bruce Humber, coach of the team, disclosed last night that there is a possibility that the team may receive additional strength when it reaches Finland.

Jack Burney, former Vancouver and Seattle sprinter who competed at numerous Victoria track meets, is at present stationed in Germany with the U.S. Army. He is reported to have turned in excellent times in track trials and is receiving special training. The U.S. army will fly him to Finland to compete for Canada if his times are approved by the Canadian Olympic Association. Among his times is a clocking of 48.2 seconds for the 440-yards.

Another well-known performer at Victoria sprint meets is Vancouver's Chick Turner, a Rhodes Scholar, who is the leading sprinter at Oxford. He has a clocking of 9.8 seconds for the 100 yards and will also be taken to Helsinki if approval is granted by the C.O.A.

Richard Hero of Win; Mazur Nets First Goal

MONTREAL, April 8 (CP)—A spectacular dash by Maurice (Rocket) Richard, almost—ice-length and climaxed by a goal as sensational, broke up the seventh and deciding game of the Stanley Cup semi-final late in the third period tonight, Montreal Canadiens winning over Boston Bruins 3-1.

The teams were tied at 1-1, a deadlock that had lasted from little past the half-way mark of the first period, when Richard ended his dash with a flourish, his shot catching the low corner of the Boston net.

Canadiens' third goal was an anti-climax, coming after goalie Sugar Jim Henry of Boston had been pulled from the nets while the Bruins sent six players storming into the Montreal area.

A crowd of 14,598 broke into a delirious bedlam when the Montreal ace sniper practically alone wrote a dramatic finish to the game and series. Canadiens now meet Detroit Red Wings in the best-of-seven cup final. The first two games will be played in Montreal Thursday and Saturday.

BITTER BATTLE

It was a bitterly fought game by the teams that had already battled to three victories apiece, and solid, thumping body-checks were the order of the night.

Eddie (Spider) Mazur, Canadiens' farmhand from Buffalo of the American Hockey League, scored Montreal's first goal at 4.25 of the opening period. The goal came from a wild scramble in which several cracks were taken at the puck, Henry saving on all until Mazur shot and the puck was deflected into the net off the glove of defenseman Bob Armstrong of the Bruins.

Ed Sandford, a tower of strength on left wing for the Bruins, evened the score eight minutes later. The play started inside the Boston zone, Bill Quackenbush sending a pass to Fleming Mackell who was chased to the right corner where he passed out a goal-mouth pass to Sandford, and big Ed hopped on the puck. Goalie Gerry McNeil of Canadiens had no chance on the blast, from just outside the goal crease.

SET STAGE FOR WINNER

The slam-bang, all-out hockey brought only six penalties—three to each team—but two of them majors. Billy Reay of Canadiens and Hal Laycoe of Bruins got into a high-sticking argument in the third period and each came out of it with blood running from head cuts. It was while they were off that Richard scored.

Richard himself was severely cut over the left eye in the second period and the gash required six stitches. The injury came when he went tumbling over Leo Labine in the Boston zone, and it appeared as if Labine's stick caught Richard across the forehead.

SURPRISE GOAL

Richard's amazing play caught both the crowd and the Bruins by surprise. Defenseman Butch Bouchard broke up a Boston attack, led by Porky Dumart, and shot up a short pass to Richard inside his own blue line.

The Rocket, blood seeping from the patch over his eye, came straight in toward the defense of Bill Quackenbush and Bob Armstrong. He swung outside Quackenbush as he reached the defense, and Quackenbush was pulled out of position as Richard swerved sharply the other way and let drive his low shot. The puck barely tipped the lower part of Henry's leg pad as he kicked desperately for it.

BOB ELLIOTT

Veteran third baseman with Boston Braves, Elliott was purchased yesterday by New York Giants for pitcher Sheldon Jones and cash estimated at $50,000. Elliott was Braves' holdout and has been working out with San Diego Padres of Pacific Coast League. He will likely play left field as replacement for Monte Irvin.

Negro Players Well Liked In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 8 (AP)—An exhibition baseball game Monday night between Chicago White Sox and Pittsburgh Pirates "contributed far more for the betterment of race relations in this area than do organizations dedicated to the same purpose," a New Orleans sports editor wrote today.

Hap Glaudi, commenting in his New Orleans Item column on the appearance of Orestes Minoso and Hector Rodriguez in the White Sox's line-up, wrote:

"Minoso and Rodriguez were the first members of their race to play baseball with white men in the history of the sport in New Orleans." Minoso and Rodriguez are Cuban Negroes.

The crowd of 9,502, unusually large for New Orleans, included 2,882 Negroes in their own sections of the stands.

Name Your Choice For Thomas Trophy

It is time again to select a winner for the Sid Thomas Memorial Trophy.

The big bronze trophy is awarded annually to the person judged to have made the biggest contribution to amateur athletics in Victoria during the previous sports year. The contribution may be as an active competitor, a coach or manager or any other official.

Nominations will be received by the Colonist sports department until midnight, April 26. Nominations should cover the sports year from April 1, 1951, to March 31, 1952, and should be accompanied by a letter giving the reasons for the nomination. The judges will base their selections on the material supplied in the letters.

Two season tickets for home games of Victoria Tyees will be awarded to the writer of the best letter.

Send in your nominations now.

Baseball Season Tickets Available Next Tuesday

Although most Victorians are still hockey-minded with the Cougars still to play their final series for the President's Cup, sale of season tickets and tickets for the opening game of the baseball season will begin Tuesday.

Reg Patterson, business manager of the Tyees, stated last night that the ticket sale will begin at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Royal Athletic Park. Last year's season ticket holders will have first choice of seats.

NEGOTIATIONS OFF

Patterson also disclosed that the Tyees had called off negotiations with righthander Bob Costello, who won 14 and lost 11 games with Tri-City last year. A free agent, Costello wanted a bonus of $750 to sign with the Tyees.

Added to the Tyees' Salinas camp roster this week were holdover shortstop Jimmy Clark and first baseman Chuck Abernathy. Not figured in earlier plans of the Tyees, Clark expressed a wish to try out for the team, agreed to terms with Patterson and reported immediately. Abernathy was obtained from Vancouver Capilanos in a deal for southpaw Jim Hedgecock.

HIRE TRAINER

Also added to the payroll was Jack Boag, who will work as trainer for the Tyees this year. Boag is well known in Victoria as a trainer, holding similar positions with Seattle Ironmen of the Pacific Coast Hockey League and Tri-City Braves of the W.I.L. last year.

The annual meeting of the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Co. Ltd. will be held at the Club Sirocco tonight at 8. Main points on the agenda are the election of officers for 1952 and the reading of the financial statement.

Fifth Contest In Puck Final Slated Today

Can Victoria Merchants repeat Monday's performance when they meet Navy in the fifth game of the best-of-seven series for the Commercial Hockey League's playoff championship at Memorial Arena tonight at 8.30?

"We'll try our best," says Bill Jensen, coach of the Merchant crew which surprised everyone by winning in two overtime periods Monday.

The win was a major triumph, as it broke a Navy seven-game winning streak.

The Sailors are still heavy favorites to cop the title as they lead the current series 3-1. However, if the rejuvenated Merchants turn in another performance like the last one things won't be any too easy for the Navy.

Senick Leading Scorer In Playoff Hockey Games

George Senick, Saskatoon's hustling left winger, leads the individual scorers in the Pacific Coast Hockey League playoff games with nine points on five goals and four assists.

Trailing Senick with eight points are Barton Bradley and Len Halderson of Tacoma, Johnny Chad of Saskatoon and Bobby Love and Aime Dufault of New Westminster.

Five is the most number of goals one player has scored so far in the playdowns. Senick, Chad and Moe Young and Mark Marquess of Tacoma and Gordy Fashoway of New Westminster have all accomplished the feat. Alex Kaleta's seven assists is tops for the playmakers.

Four Victoria Cougar players—Andy Hebenton, Les Hickey, Ed Dorohoy and Roger Leger—have scored six points. Bob Frampton leads the Cougars in goals with four.

Prairie Floods Slackening

EDMONTON, April 8 (CP)—The worst of the spring runoff floods on the Prairies appeared to be over tonight.

Cooler weather did much to slow up the annual thaw. But flood fighters remained alert for any new menace that a return to warmer weather might bring.

The South Saskatchewan River was reported flowing free of ice jams in northern Saskatchewan as it neared the end of its annual spring breakup surge from the Alberta foothills to Manitoba lakes.

Hundreds of flood evacuees in Alberta and Saskatchewan waited for river and creek waters to recede before returning to their ravaged homes. Some already were trickling back.

How Many Did 'Viduals Draw?

TILLSONBURG, Ont., April 8 (CP).—That full moon shining on this tobacco-belt town isn't a moon.

It's a basketball.

No wonder, when in a town of 5,000, 3,500 residents squeeze in to watch their team—as of last week Eastern Canada champions—go all out to try to win the Canadian senior finals.

If Tillsonburg Livingstons defeat Winnipeg Varsity Grads in the best-of-five series and take the title, they will be that much closer to the whole town's dream—an Olympic basketball team.

That was business man Gerry Livingston's idea six years ago when the former Assumption College basketball star and United States professional started to gather a team.

The town's been behind him all the way.

But Tillsonburg doesn't drop everything for a basketball game.

Games don't start this week until 9 p.m., after Holy Week services at St. Paul's United Church.

Then everybodys goes over to the game.

Barefooted Boys Clear 6½ Feet

LAGOS, Southern Nigeria, April 8 (AP)—Four barefooted high jumpers cleared six feet six inches in the Nigerian national track championships today. Two others, also without shoes, cleared 6-4.

The winner, O. Odoboh, cleared six feet six inches although he is only five feet six inches tall.

Nigeria will send a small team to the summer Olympic games in Helsinki.

Christenberry Seeking Standard Boxing Rules

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said today he is working on a project that may result in standard rules among his organization, the European Boxing Union and the British Boxing Board of Control.

Christenberry said he has been corresponding with the two groups and has been invited to attend the annual congress of the E.B.U. in Brussels, Belgium, May 23-26.

The New York official also is seeking an agreement with the E.B.U. such as he recently established with the states of Missouri and Illinois. The pact includes exchange of investigational information and mutual respect of suspensions and revocations.

Christenberry stated many rules of the E.B.U. and the New York State Commission were similar. These include the eight-count for knockdowns in all fights with the exception of a championship bout; the use of six-ounce gloves; the compulsory use of a protective belt and the six-month defense of title rule.

RETURN MATCHES

One E.B.U. rule that Christenberry plans to bring before the other New York commissioners is the one governing return matches.

This rule reads:

"Boxers, either title-holders or challengers, who are to contest a championship title, are forbidden to guarantee in contracts relating to such title contests, a return match in the event of the title changing hands. Any clause of this nature occurring in contracts shall be declared null and void."

Pigeons Ensure Game Broadcast

VENTURA, Calif., April 8 (AP).—Baseball fans here are promised reports by carrier pigeon of Friday's exhibition game in Ontario between Ventura Braves and Fresno Cardinals.

When it appeared the Western Union Telegraph strike would cancel radio station KVEN's plans for a recreated broadcast of the contest between the two members of the California State League, Sportscaster Jerry Palmer received an assist from the Ventura Racing Pigeon Club.

Members offered a supply of birds, one of which will be released at the end of each inning to carry reports back home.

Mays to Claim Hardship Case

HOUSTON, Texas, April 8 (AP) Centrefielder Willie Mays of the New York Giants left the club today to claim a hardship case before his draft board in Fairfield, Ala.

Mays, who will be 21 on May 6, is the chief support of a family of nine.

He said he has a meeting scheduled with the board tomorrow. If his plea is turned down, Mays will be inducted into the armed forces on May 16.

Wind Damage To New Arena Forces Closure

PENTICTON, April 8 (BUP).—The $250,000 Penticton war memorial arena has been condemned for all public functions following Sunday's high wind storm which damaged both the east and west walls.

City Engineer Paul Walker and Building Inspector S. A. Cornock, have advised Penticton City Council that the west wall was out two inches and that the east wall of the arena was also damaged by the week-end wind.

Architect W. K. Noppe, of Vancouver will be advised of the situation.

The quarter-million dollar sports palace was built last summer and was opened officially last November by the Penticton Vees of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League.

The New Westminster Boys' Band was scheduled to perform in the Penticton Memorial Arena April 14. It was not known whether repairs can be made by then.

Viggers Takes Two Titles In Pin Meet

Ed Viggers won two-thirds of the individual honors in the annual fivepin bowling tournament staged at Gibson's Bowladrome the past two week ends.

Viggers won the all-events and the singles championships. He had 664 in the team event, a 775 in the doubles, an 832 in the singles and a 198 handicap for a 2,479 total. Harry Holness was runner-up in the all-events competition with 2,381 and Don Corbett followed with 2,341. Viggers won the singles with 832 plus handicap of 66 or 898. B. Naylor was runner-up with 893.

Miss Lil Henderson and her father, Fred Henderson, won the doubles event with a score of 1,689. R. Waggoner and A. Copp were second with 1,601.

Prize-winning results follow:

DOUBLES—Miss L. Henderson and Fred Henderson, 1,689; R. Waggoner and A. Copp 1,601; H. Holness and P. Smith 1,589; Wilf Smith and Eric Chayko 1,587; N. Lindsay and E. Naylor 1,552; G. Six Entrants For Senior Legion Race

Six runners have entered the senior 10-mile event in the annual Britannia Branch Legion road race to be held Friday.

Heading the list is Dr. Fred Loeffler of Vancouver who won the event last year. His brother, Rudy, who raced here some years ago, has also entered the event.

Gordon Hartley, physical education instructor at Victoria High School, has entered and will be running under Canadian Scottish colors. Ernie Massick will run for the Pro Rec Club. J. Hanley of Army and another entry from Duncan complete the entry list.

Pete Kirchner, Victoria High School champion, heads the list in the junior division race. About 10 entrants have been received for the junior 2½-mile event and another eight for the juvenile mile.

Trophies at stake will be the Great War Veterans Trophy, senior; the Hincheliffe Trophy, junior; and the Times Trophy.

Uplands Lists Easter Draw

Indians Score 10th Win Over Giants in 12 Games

Cleveland Indians walloped New York Giants, 5-0, yesterday for the Tribe's 10th victory in 12 starts with the National League champions in the spring training exhibition series.

Bobby Feller, a 22-game winner last year, pitched the first seven innings for the Indians, holding the Giants to five hits. Jimmy Hearn used the first seven for the Giants and gave up only five hits. He also would have been unscored upon except for three infield errors which permitted two runs to cross the plate in the fifth.

Orestes (Minnie) Minoso slashed out four hits in five trips to pace Chicago White Sox to an 8-4 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates.

HOMERS GALORE

Four homers provided most of the victory margin as Washington Senators edged out Cincinnati Reds, 10-9. Gil Coan, Cass Michaels, Sam Mele and Mickey Vernon walloped home runs for the Senators while Ted Kluszewski, Andy Seminick and Joe Nuxhall collected four-baggers for the Reds.

Maft Batts, Cliff Mapes, Neil Berry, Pat Mullin and Ben Taylor blasted home runs to help Detroit Tigers to a 10-4 victory over the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association.

Bob Montag smashed two Atlanta homers and Charles Williams one.

Mantle in Centre Field

CHARLOTTE, N.C., April 8 (AP).—Manager Casey Stengel indicated today that Mickey Mantle has won the job as Joe DiMaggio's successor in centrefield for the world champion New York Yankees.

At the same time Stengel indicated he plans to start Gil McDougald at third in place of Andy Carey, the Yankees' newest rookie sensation.

"Look at that McDougald," Stengel snorted. "I told him not to take infield and there he is getting Dickey (coach Bill Dickey) to hit grounders to him.

"Gil's already been hurt twice. And there he is fooling around again. I don't wan't him doing that. I want him to start the season."

Having already said that Gerry Coleman would be his second baseman until the marines call him, Casey thus indicated that McDougald would open at third in place of Carey.

Quickly, Stengel added however that he reserves the right to change his mind.

"If I told that other kid (Carey) he was starting, he would probably faint," Casey said.

Casey said Mantle will be in centrefield on opening day "if he shows a bit more speed in starting backward for a fly ball hit over his head."

"That's his only weakness," the wrinkled veteran said.

Stengel didn't reveal any of his other starting assignments for opening day, but he did say Hank Bauer will work full time in rightfield, with Jackie Jensen and Gene Woodling alternating in left.

Skiers Seeking Island Titles This Week End

COURTENAY, April 8—Plans for the Vancouver Island ski championships to be held at Mount Beecher Sunday and Monday are nearing completion and prospects for a successful meet are good.

The two-day tournament is open to both men and women C class skiers. Races will start at the top of Mount Beecher and will finish at the Comox District Mountaineering Club cabin.

Two runs are scheduled in the slalom race on the same course Sunday. On Monday the downhill race will be staged in one run. Races on both days will start at 2 p.m.

Trophies are up for competition for the slalom and downhill races and an award will also be given for the best combined time in both events.

At the present time there is about 23 to 25 feet of snow at the club cabin and it is believed conditions will be ideal the week end of the meet.

Entry forms will be available at the cabin on the opening day of the competitions.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

Your weight should be forward at the moment of impact, as pictured here. Notice that the left leg and left side form a straight line. And against that firm, straight side you swing the club. Since this is a shot with wood, the ball is positioned forward of centre. This puts the head, held stationary, slightly behind the ball as shown. And at impact the left arm and club-shaft form a straight line. And if your timing is correct at the point pictured, the clubhead will be traveling at its greatest speed along the direction line, thus delivering the most power to the ball. From here on the left shoulder will rise as the right shoulder passes down under permitting a full follow-through. This will let the clubhead remain almost parallel to the ground for a few inches after impact, before starting to pass up and over the left shoulder. For persons of normal build, the nearer the perpendicular the swing, the better. Most players fail to use the hands enough. Start moving the hands into the down stroke — which means uncocking the wrists—when you are about half-way down.

McKenzie Plans Shake-Up of Royals

Embarrassed by the defeat of his New Westminster Royals at the hands of Victoria Cougars in the Pacific Coast Hockey League semi-finals, owner Ken McKenzie is planning a hefty shake-up in the Royal line-up for next season.

"I will cull out all those players whom I think did not always give their best," McKenzie said.

He stated he would definitely keep Bob Bergeron, Ollie Doroboy, Bob Love, Amy Dufault, Blinky Boyce and Jerry Cabana.

McKenzie hopes to receive five players and $20,000 from Detroit Red Wings for forwards Gord Pinkney and Doug Fachan. He will go East in June to complete the deal.

He is also working on a deal with Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League for a goalkeeper. He stated that Lucien Dechene, this year's top goalkeeper and most valuable player in the P.C.H.L., "may go to the National League."

McKenzie also denied a Vancouver report that Alex Shibicky, coach of the Royals in 1948-49, would return to coach them again next season.

"I have not discussed it with Shibicky and I do not intend to," McKenzie said.

Shibicky has just concluded a two-year contract as coach of Flin Flon Bombers.

Jake Forbes, who coached the Royals to the league championship this season, has returned to Omaha where he played for five seasons before joining the Royals.

Mac's Best Captures Fivepin Crown

Mac's Best captured the Capital City Trophy, emblematic of the Major Fivepin Bowling League championship at the Capital City Bowladrome over the week end by defeating The Climbers in a five-game roll-off.

The winners had a total of 5,323 while The Climbers had 5,195. Art Marchant paced the winners with 1,187. Phil Smith had 1,178, Joe LaBrie 1,135, Alex Lawrence 979 and Shirley Vogler 842. For The Climbers Hugh Cowan had 1,146, Bud Baldwin 1,047, Doug Vogler 1,029, Ruth Birkenhead 1,004 and Jean Gray 969.

In the consolation roll-off The Jones Boys were the winners with a five-game total of 5,362. Chayko's Chicks were next with 5,076.

Don Corbett had the highest total of the roll-offs, 1,355. He rolled games of 210, 251, 299, 259, and 336. Dick Jewsbury had games of 209, 210, 234, 287, 327 for a 1,267 total and Don McCaig had 235, 223, 307, 250, 227 for 1,242.

Conquer Cancer Campaign Needs $20,000 in Hurry

Victoria's Conquer Cancer campaign needs $20,000 — in a hurry.

Fund officials want the drive over the top, beyond the objective of $30,000, before the Community Chest's emergency drive begins April 15.

Last night Dr. H. H. Murphy, director of the Victoria Cancer Clinic, spoke over CJVI on the early symptoms of cancer.

Disregard of early symptoms of the disease amounts to suicide, many cancer specialists say. Records may list death cause as cancer, in many cases, where ignorance and fear should be stated as the real cause of death.

A typical "suicide" was revealed in hospital records in the case of Mr. "Doe," who began to suffer from chronic indigestion and biliousness 15 years ago.

DISREGARDED ADVICE

Four years later, after a thorough examination, he was told by his doctor that his gall bladder was inflamed with gallstones and should be removed.

Disregarding this advice, he continued to suffer mildly from indigestion for 10 years, when he suddenly began to lose weight and became jaundiced.

An operation revealed cancer of the gall bladder, then too far gone to remove. He died six months later.

Mr. Doe's death was entirely preventable had he followed his doctor's advice.

Not all lumps in the breast or elsewhere on the body are cancerous, but they deserve prompt and careful investigation and in every case the benefit of biopsy — microscopic examination of a small piece of tissue. The regular use of biopsy in determining the nature of suspicious growths has increased the cure rate by several per cent.

Biopsy forms a large part of the work of the Victoria Cancer Clinic, located in the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Ratepayers Ask Question On Financial Statement

SAANICHTON, April 8—The department of municipal affairs has been asked by ratepayers why a year-end financial statement was not issued in Central Saanich before March 31, Reeve Sydney Pickles told council tonight.

The question was sent the department in the form of a petition signed by a group of ratepayers, he said.

Clerk J. W. Ismay and the auditor, I. Ross, have received letters from B. C. Bracewell, municipal affairs deputy minister, asking an explanation for alleged failure to issue a statement within the set time.

A copy of the letter was sent to him and he replied personally. His explanation was accepted by the department, the reeve said.

The reeve explained that the financial statement was complete with the exception of information from Saanich regarding contingent liabilities. The clerk had applied for the information in January and was still without it, the reeve said.

Mr. Pickles said he is now pressing the department for a copy of the petition.

Frank Costello Sentenced To 18 Months

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP) — Racketeer Frank Costello was sentenced today to 18 months and his first prison term since he was a youth of 24.

The 61-year-old underworld big shot drew imprisonment for twice walking out on the Senate's Crime Committee here a year ago.

He also was fined $5,000 for contempt of the Senate for refusing to answer committee questions about his finances and political contacts. He could have received 10 years and a $10,000 fine.

His lawyer said the sentence will be appealed.

Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, who sentenced Costello, refused to grant him bail. But the Federal Appeals Court freed him on $5,000 bail, at least until Thursday. He then will have a chance to seek continued bail until his appeal is processed.

Strikes Still Lock U.S. Communications

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP)—A four-man mediation team today tackled the Western Electric Co. wage dispute, one of three strikes plaguing the communications system in the United States.

The talks were the first since 16,000 Western Electric installers struck Monday. Mediators said they made no progress.

For a second day, Western Electric picketing — which could make idle 300,000 telephone operators in 43 states — was spotty. All-out picketing by the striking C.I.O. communications workers union was deferred apparently until Thursday.

Mediators were also at work on separate telephone disputes in Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey and Northern California. Some 51,000 operators and clerks struck telephone exchanges there Monday.

A third strike, begun six days ago, has made idle 30,000 A.F.L. commercial telegraphers, who punch out telegrams for Western Union in 2,000 cities and towns.

Wages are at the bottom of all three disputes.

Western Union claimed service has been restored to 105 areas since the telegraphers walked out last Thursday.

The C.T.U. ridiculed this company claim and contended that the strike is nearly 100 per cent effective.

Mediation talks broke down Monday and both sides dug in for a long strike. The union's leaders in Washington said they were ready to sit it out for at least six or eight weeks.

C.T.U. is demanding wage and other benefits worth an estimated 50 cents a week per telegrapher.

Chick Output Shows Rise Over 1951

Chick production in the province during January and February totaled 903,091, according to the federal agricultural department.

The 1951 figure for the same period was 843,189 chicks.

The figure does not indicate the number of chicks destroyed due to lack of sales. The total of cockerels destroyed this year is 132,000 more than last year, the report said.

Dr. Garesche Honor Guest

Dr. A. J. Garesche, 91, who started at St. Louis College, Victoria, in 1867, will be special guest of honor at a social evening to be held by the St. Louis College Alumni Association on April 18 at the college.

The association met last night to adopt a new constitution presented by Gerald Sullivan.

Some Like Thrush

Experts Dispute Claims On Bird for B.C. Emblem

British Columbia came close to getting the bird from experts in Victoria last night.

But members of the Victoria Natural History Society failed to agree on which bird would serve as the most suitable emblem of the province.

However, the last whistle seemed to be in favor of the Varied Thrush, a colorful singer which natural history members felt was well known throughout the province.

It is also confined to British Columbia (and possibly parts of Alberta) as far as its Canadian occurrence is concerned.

CLAIM OPPOSED

Claims of the Varied Thrush were opposed by Charles Guiquet, provincial museum biologist, who favored the Rufous Hummingbird.

J. O. Clay, chairman of the bird division of the society, cut the issue down pretty fine. In a negative sort of an address he ruled out:

Game birds. (You wouldn't want to shoot the provincial emblem, would you?)

Nuisances. (Crows, for example.)

Non-musical birds. (Who wants a provincial emblem that makes a noise like a cat?)

Others objected to were harmful birds, poorly distributed birds, those "common across Canada," and birds non-resident in this province during the winter.

GLAMOUR BIRDS

Also vetoed were birds lacking "personality."

Rivalling the Rufous Hummingbird and the Varied Thrush in votes was the Pileated Woodpecker, only questioned as a B.C. emblem because he is "common across the continent."

Mr. Clay described the Varied Thrush, also known as the "Painted Robin" as very similar to the common Robin in appearance, but more brightly colored and bearing "a black crescent across the breast."

Its song is described as deliberate and mysterious with a single, long-drawn note utered in several different keys the distinguishing feature.

The note, naturalists say, swells to a full tone and then fades away "mysteriously."

STILL HAVE CHOICE

If you don't like any of the birds mentioned you are apparently left with a choice between the Peregrine Falcon, Sparrow Hawk, Screech Owl, Steeler Jay, Flicker, Kingfisher, Goldfinch, Dipper and Yellow Warbler.

Or European Starling, Cedar Waxwing, Mountain Bluebird, Townsend Solitaire, Osprey, Robin, Trumpeter Swan, Harlequin Duck, Hooded Merganser, Glaucous Wing Gull, Common Loon, Golden Eagle or Black Brant.

Jive Warning Issued Youth

LEEDS, England, April 5 (NANA-Kemnews). — A warning that jive and bebop might lead to dismissal from their youth clubs has been given to 2,500 teen-agers in Leeds.

The ban applies to 11 civic youth clubs, and follows a decision of the Corporation Baths and Property committee to stop this style of dancing at town hall dances.

"Jive and bebop interferes with other people's enjoyment," said a corporation official.

Some youth-club members talked of protest petitions, "but they are a small minority," said a youth-club leader.

Stuart Funeral Set for Today

Funeral service for John Matheson Stuart, 92, of Sooke, who died on Saturday, will be held today at 3 p.m. in McCall Brothers' Chapel. Rev. M. A. J. Waters will officiate and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Mr. Stuart was born in Ontario and had lived in British Columbia for 42 years. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Philip Hopkins and Mrs. Norman Parkinson of Vancouver and Mrs. A. E. Carr of Victoria; and four sons, Donald Cameron of Victoria, Gordon of Abbotsford, Arthur of Hamilton, Ont., and Alexander of Sooke.

HARD WOOD

Lignum vitae, a very heavy wood used to make bowls, ship's blocks, etc., comes from a tree that is native to Jamaica.

Handicapped Form Club For Sports

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canada's first chartered sport club for blind and otherwise handicapped persons was started here five months ago.

It is known as the Indoor Sports Club, and is part of an international organization which has 3,000 members in the United States, Great Britain, Alaska and Hawaii.

Membership in the Vancouver group has grown to more than 75. The members are of all ages; from their early teens to late 70's. Some are blind but most are wheel-chair cases.

An auxiliary, able-bodied group has also been formed to help the handicapped at their meetings which are held at least once a month.

The group, at first, had only a gymnasium, but now members have been offered the use of the swimming pool at one of Vancouver's community centres.

NATIVE BATTALIONS

The King's African Rifles were battalions of African tribesmen enlisted locally in the British East African dependencies.

Plumbing Feature Topic

Plumbing the depths of history or "the developments of the North American bathroom" was a feature topic at the meeting of the North Victoria Kiwanis Club, last night.

"We can flush with pride," Ronald Boulder, United Toastmasters' Club, told the Kiwanis membership, as he traced the evolution of plumbing from the marble-fixture Roman days to the present.

Other guest Toastmaster speakers included Gordon Williscroft, Thunderbird Toastmasters, and Arthur Kinnis, Club 38, Toastmasters.

Currently the North Kiwanians are staging a drive for funds to aid the pursuit of the drama at S. J. Willis School. They are raising funds to buy a curtain for the stage at the school.

Proceeds from a concert to be presented May 21 and 22 will be used for this purpose and for the establishment of a scholarship in the Greater Victoria section of the B.C. musical festival.

Play Pleases Large Group At Sooke

SOOKE, April 8—A three-act play, "Honeymoon Inn," was staged successfully in Sooke Community Hall April 5.

The director was John Steele, who recently came from England and is a teacher at Sooke School. Mrs. Joyce B. Wilkinson was stage manager. P. W. deP. Taylor managed the settings and Frank and Larry Rumsby were in charge of the lighting.

A large audience was most attentive during the two and one-half hour performance. The cast in order of appearance included Dorothy Kendrew, Gloria Milliken, Elsie Nixon, Douglas Forrester, Muriel Westad, Eileen Conder, Walter Conder, Peggy Elgar, Sheila Martin, Tom Dixon, Milt Gibson, John Steele, Rex Kendrew and John Martin.

Well rehearsed, the play had only a few dull moments, and with most of the players on the stage simultaneously, interest was sustained throughout.

BIGGER VOICE

John Steele is a big man with a bigger voice. He was heard with ease in the role of Jed Blair Whippleton, the poet. In her portrayal of the gipsy who foretold the plot, Mrs. Martin was well received. Her colorful costume was a pleasant change from the other street attire.

Most of the cast have been performing here for several winters, and they show continuous improvement. No one seemed to mind that the female roles were slightly overdone.

Rounds of applause recalled the players at the finale.

Door receipts, in charge of Frank Gray, James Forrest and Miss Merle Forrest, went to the Sooke Community Association for the annual membership drive.

George Pimlott, Sooke Community Association president, presented door admission prizes to Mrs. Robert Acreman, Mrs. Allan Macdonnell, and to Miss Ruby Sims of Jordan River.

Winnipeg Ballet To Perform Here

The Victoria Kiwanis Club announced last night that it has succeeded in booking the Winnipeg Ballet for a show in Victoria in May.

The famed ballet company will stage two performances on May 28 and 29 in the Royal Theatre.

Five-Year-Old In Hospital After Accident

NANAIMO, April 8—Five-year-old Wayne Aebig, Wellington, was rushed to Nanaimo Hospital this evening suffering from a broken right leg, multiple lacerations to the face and head, and shock, after he stepped into the path of a moving car.

Wayne got out of his father's car to enter a barbershop, and walked behind the car. He was in collision with a car driven by Frank Jedrzyzyk, 17, of 415 Nicol Street, Nanaimo.

Police said there was no question of blame attached to Jedrzyzyk in the accident.

Social Credit To Set Date For Saanich

Date for a nominating convention for Saanich constituency will be set tonight by Social Credit League followers.

Lyle Wicks, provincial president of the league, will address a meeting at 8 p.m. in the Lake Hill Women's Institute Hall.

Victoria members, meanwhile, will nominate their candidates April 15.

Truck Attracts Single Tender

SAANICHTON, April 8—Central Saanich council last night declined to open the sole tender for purchase of the municipal works truck.

The tender has been tabled and further tenders will be called on the Mainland.

Persian Poem Brings $1,500

LONDON, April 8 (Reuters)—The manuscript of a Persian poem, "Laila and Mainun," written about 1563 by Nizami, has been sold here for $1,500 by the Bodleian Library of Oxford University. The manuscript, illuminated in gold and other colors, was used by James Atkinson (1780-1852) for his translation of the poem into English.

Erica van Engel Wins Talk Contest

Miss Erica van Engel was winner of the Dale Carnegie International's 90-second speech contest held last night. Members of the Victoria club competed in topics of their own choosing.

On the Labor Front

New High Set for Unanimous Awards

Last year saw the highest percentage of unanimous awards ever brought down in the history of the Labor Relations Board.

Of the 120 conciliation boards, 52 resulted in unanimous recommendations from an employees' nominees and an employers' nominees and their chairmen.

The figures were given by George Wilkinson, Labor Relations Board member, in a recent address at Kelowna. He spoke of the work of the board, conciliation boards and that of conciliation board chairmen.

Of boards completed last year, conciliation board chairmen signed 27 majority reports with union nominees and 29 with employers.

Total time lost in strikes was .076 per cent of the man-days worked. Time lost in the province last year from strikes totaled 74,722 days, compared with the 97,684,297 man days worked, the highest figure in B.C.'s history, Mr. Wilkinson said.

Another comparison, he said, was that last year there were 738,003 man days lost due to industrial accidents in the province.

British Columbia workers are among the highest paid in Canada, and in some cases are paid more than prevailing rates in the United States, he said.

While no complete figures were available for last year, Mr. Wilkinson added, he would estimate that there are 160,000 trade union members in the province, or about 40 per cent of the total working force.

A conciliation board sitting at Vancouver is expected to complete its hearings this week in regard to matters between United Brotherhood of Carpenters (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) and some coast contractors.

The union seeks $2.50 an hour. P. W. Strachan, president of the Provincial Council of Carpenters, is the union's board member.

The recommendation will not have a direct bearing on Victoria negotiations, where carpenters also seek $2.50 an hour. They have rejected a 16½-cent-an-hour wage offer over the present $1.75-an-hour rate.

Mr. Strachan also will serve as the Victoria union's board nominee.

Laborers at Comox airport, recently organized by the Carpenters' Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), have been transferred to the Laborers' Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), it was reported yesterday. They will come under jurisdiction of the Victoria office.

It was recently claimed that the Vancouver office of the Laborers' Union was failing to give sufficient service to central areas of the Island.

The value of contracts awarded in British Columbia during February was $4,078,600 compared to $50,527,800 for the previous month, the trade and industry department reports.

Building permits issued by incorporated centres during February totaled $7,151,000. The permits value for the first two months of 1952 is nearly 30 per cent lower than during the comparable period of 1951, the report adds.

Pay in U.K. Averages Only $25

LONDON, (NANA-Kemnews). —The average gross pay of men working in the main British industries is $25 weekly, including wages, overtime, Sunday pay, and bonuses. Average earnings last October were $23.25 a week for men and $19.75 for all workers, men, women and young people.

Wage increases since October have raised basic pay levels by about 6 per cent, and overtime earnings proportionately more.

In manufacturing industries—excluding building, transport and the like—the October average for men only was $24.10.

Those earnings are records, and represent weekly wage rates 96 per cent higher than prewar (1938) averages.

The highest earnings are found in coal mining, with men workers averaging $29.65 a week, plus allowances estimated at $1.25 a week, and in dock labor with an average of $27.25.

The average hours of all workers among the 6,500,000 manual employees in manufacturing industry and some non-manufacturing industry covered by the ministry statistics were 46.1 a week—47.8 for men only. The earnings of all workers averaged a little more than 42 cents hourly—nearly 50 cents for men only.

Those rates compare with prewar rates of 15 cents an hour for all workers and 20 cents an hour for men.

Metal manufacturing ($26.20 weekly), printing ($26.25) and vehicles ($25.20) were among the industrial groups showing higher than average pay for men.

For women those same groups, plus textiles ($13.20) and transport ($16.40) were well above the women's average of $12.60 weekly.

Card Player Gets Perfect Crib Hand

A. L. Robinson last night held his first perfect crib hand in more than 40 years.

Playing with his son J. L. Robinson, 1319 Vimy Avenue, Mr. Robinson achieved his 29 count when he held the jack of diamonds and three fives and a second jack turned up.

The suggested bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♣	Pass	3♣	3◇
4♣	Pass	?	4 or 5◇

In order to win a good score on this hand, it is not necessary for East-West to bid five diamonds unless they are pushed there. The bidding point is that West should not sell out for less than five clubs doubled, or a bid of five diamonds.

The five club bid should be set 300 points if West wins the first diamond and exits with a heart; leads a second heart when he is in with the spade queen and a third when he wins his second spade trick.

Playing the hand at diamonds, West must play so as to win eleven tricks. This isn't very difficult, assuming the normal lead of a club. (Repeated spade leads by North-South would cost them their spade trick.) West can ruff the club lead, draw one round of trumps and lead a heart finessing against North's jack. A second heart lead towards dummy's queen holds West's losers to two heart tricks and established the fourth heart for a spade discard.

East-West par: Make eleven tricks at diamonds or collect 300 points against five clubs doubled.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 1952

Today's quotation: "Imagination does more than accelerate material progress, it creates more satisfying human relationships." Ray Giles.

Wednesday for everyone. Be alert in matters involving partnership, the public, personal matters and contacts. Proceed with care where credit transactions are concerned. Better be safe than sorry.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below.

March 21 to April 19 (Aries) — Advance personal matters and contacts. Express individuality to gain support. Don't be "taken in."

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus) — Cut down on expenses. Pleasure comes through quietude, music, reading. Have no misunderstandings.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini) — Get a true picture of things prior to taking action. Stress friendliness; avoid opposition. Be thrifty.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer) — Forward ambitions, business dealings. Guard health. Don't balk at making concessions to others.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo) — A winning manner and keen judgment are your best keys to attainment. If folks are "difficult," exert diplomacy, care.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo) — Bring mutual monetary matters to practical conclusion. Talk things over with others; "know the score."

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra) — Subject decisions to careful analysis if you would make headway. Take no chances.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio) — Don't waste funds or vitality. Catch up with work; buy or sell. Don't lose or mislay things.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius) — Be self-reliant; don't count on others. Advance pleasures, have fun where possible, but avoid extravagance.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn) — The judgment of parents or home folk may not agree with yours. Maintain emotional equilibrium.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius) — Pay no heed to forceful folks; haste makes waste. Maintain harmony with kinfolk or neighbors.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces) — Concentrate on financial interests. Have no part of negative proposals, impractical individuals.

Planning ahead — Good for entertaining, sociability, etc. April 13, 14, 16, 19, 20, 21, 22, 26, 27, 28.

Rings Taken off Body Of Wife, Man Charges

NEW YORK, April 8 (AP) — The husband of a woman who died in a hospital after suffering a stroke at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel claimed Monday night that rings worth $8,700 were missing from her body, police said. Mrs. Ann Pakas was stricken about noon while attending a meeting of the Harlem Philharmonic Society at the Waldorf.

The first arrival of white traders on the Peace River is believed to have been in 1786.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

APRIL SHOWERS

It was April weather in Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountains where Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow stump bungalow. And as you children know, April weather is showery weather.

There is a little song which says: "April showers bring May flowers," and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, sang this song to Uncle Wiggily as he sat at the window and looked out at his garden.

"They don't mind April showers."

"Do you think this rain will ever stop, Nurse Jane?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"It has always stopped after it has rained enough," said Nurse Jane. "It is sure to stop some time or other, Mr. Longears."

"Yes; but when?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"That I cannot tell you," said Nurse Jane. "I am a housekeeper, or a bungalow-keeper, if you like that better. But I am not a weather prophet. So I cannot say when these April showers will stop. But why do you want them to stop, Mr. Longears? April showers are good for your garden."

"Yes, I know, Nurse Jane. But unless I can get out to plant some seeds in my garden I will never raise anything. I must plant some seeds to make vegetables grow."

"Haven't you planted any seeds yet?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Oh, yes, early this morning before it began to shower, I managed to drop in a few carrot seeds. But before I had finished planting the carrot bed, the rain shower came down and I had to hop back to my bungalow to keep from getting wet."

"You don't like to get wet, do you, Mr. Longears?"

"No, Nurse Jane, I don't. I am a rabbit and rain makes my fur all stuck up like and very unpleasant."

"You are just like Joe, Tommie and Kittie Kat," said Nurse Jane. "They don't like to get their fur wet. But look out in your garden now. There are some of your animal boy and girl friends who don't mind getting wet."

Uncle Wiggily looked out of the bungalow window at the April showered garden. He saw Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys, racing and splashing through a mud puddle. He saw Toodle and Noodle Flat Tail, the beaver boys, swimming in a larger, deeper puddle. Then Mr. Longears saw Lulu, Alice and Jimmy Wibblewobble, the ducks, paddling around in a third puddle.

"They don't mind April showers," said Nurse Jane. "They love them!"

"I wish I did," said Uncle Wiggily. "But I don't and I believe I never shall like getting wet. But look, Nurse Jane! Don't you think the rain is stopping?"

"Yes, it does look so," said the muskrat lady. "This shower is over, I really believe."

"Hurray! Then I can go out and finish planting my carrot seeds!" Uncle Wiggily hurried out of the kitchen door and hopped over the puddles where the puppy dogs, the beavers and the ducks were having fun. When he reached the carrot bed, Mr. Longears began to drop more seeds into the rich, brown, moist earth.

But he had planted only a few seeds when, suddenly, another April shower began pelting down.

"Oh, dear me, hum suz dud and a rubber boot full of lollipops!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I am going to get wet again!" He made a quick hop to the back porch and slammed open the kitchen door.

"What's the matter?" asked Nurse Jane who was making a cabbage pie. "Did the Pipsisewah or the Skeezicks chase you in?"

"No, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," answered Mr. Longears. "But the April shower chased me in. I can't stand it to get wet."

Once more Uncle Wiggily sat by the window looking out into his garden. It rained for a while, then it stopped.

"Now I'll try again," said Uncle Wiggily as he once more hopped out with some lettuce seeds. He had planted only a few of them when another April shower began to fall and Mr. Longears hopped back into the bungalow. "Oh, dear!" said the rabbit sadly. Then Nurse Jane said:

"I have a fine idea, Uncle Wiggily!" What was Nurse Jane's idea? I'll tell you tomorrow, if the washcloth will let the bath tub sponge go out in the rain to get a drink of water for the goldfish.

Lord Montague Opens Estate to Sightseers

WINCHESTER, England, April 8 (Reuters) — Lord Montague of Beaulieu, 25-year-old bachelor, today opens his huge ancestral estate to sightseers because he can't otherwise afford to maintain it. He will charge visitors half a crown to tour his rambling palace house at the edge of Hampshire's New Forest.

Cobourg on the north shore of Lake Ontario was first settled in 1802 when the first store was opened there.

Tax Tables Compared

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott juggled the personal income tax schedules tonight and confused even his own experts—not to mention the entire parliamentary press gallery.

In his 1952-53 budget speech, he announced that he is incorporating the 20-per-cent defense surtax in a new income tax schedule and cutting tax rates by an average of six per cent, effective July 1 next. He mentioned in passing that the two-per-cent social security tax becomes effective the same day.

That sounded good—too good.

The jokers became apparent when reporters and the tax experts got together to find out how much everybody's tax deductions go down July 1 and how much lower 1952 taxes would be compared with 1951.

The answers? For the average taxpayer, the weekly tax deductions go up.

Joker No. 1 is in the social security tax. While the six-per-cent reduction is on the amount of income tax you pay, the two-per-cent social security levy is on the entire taxable income.

Joker No. 2 is in the incorporation of that 20-per-cent defense surtax into the basic tax schedule.

This is how the new rates operate:

Income	1951 Tax	1952 Tax
SINGLE
$ 1,200	$ 33	$ 37
1,800	132	148

Business May Get Relief of Tax Rate

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—Business generally got no tax relief in Finance Minister Abbott's budget tonight, but it did get a broad hint that the high rates of corporate taxation will be hauled down in the next two years.

The main change in the company-tax setup is that firms basically engaged in generating and distributing electricity, gas and steam will have their maximum tax rate dropped to 43 per cent from the general corporate level of 50 per cent.

For corporations generally, the impact of federal taxation will stay virtually unchanged. However, the tax basis is being shifted to give the federal government the corporation taxes now paid to those provinces with which it has tax agreements. The government will repay the provinces.

The only reduction in the general corporation tax will be one of 1.2 per cent on profits over $10,000, to round it off to an even 50 per cent.

EXPRESSES CONCERN

Mr. Abbott in his budget speech expressed "concern" over this "high" level of rates on business profits.

In explaining why the electric-gas-steam companies are to get a reduction, Mr. Abbott said they are, generally speaking, the group of companies that have the most difficulty getting enough income to attract capital for improvements to meet demands for service. They are regulated by public utilities boards.

The federal reduction will cause some loss—said by officials to be relatively minor—in provincial revenues. For some years, the national government has been turning over to provincial governments half the corporate tax collected from the privately-owned utilities.

Under the change in the general corporation tax, the federal rates go to 28 per cent from 15 per cent on the first $10,000 profit and from 45.6 per cent to 50 per cent on profits over $10,000.

FULL AMOUNT

Provinces with federal-provincial agreements will be rebated the full amount they lose—about $35,000,000 a year—while in Ontario and Quebec the companies will be allowed a federal tax credit of up to 5 per cent. The provincial rates now are 5 per cent in all except Ontario and Quebec, and 7 per cent in those two.

Other corporation tax proposals will:

1. Continue for another year tax deductions granted petroleum, natural gas and mining companies for exploration expenses. These now cover about the full amount of exploration costs.

2. Continue until 1955 a three-year tax exemption on new mines.

Tax Resolution Excerpts Give Sample Rates

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—Excerpts from the income-tax resolution contained in Finance Minister Abbott's budget:

Resolved that it is expedient to introduce a measure to amend the Income Tax Act and to provide, among other things, that for the 1953 and subsequent taxation years there be substituted for the graduated rates of tax and the defense surtax at present applicable—graduated rates of tax, such as the following:

Seventeen per cent of the amount taxable if the amount taxable does not exceed $1,000.

$800 plus 25 per cent of the amount by which the amount taxable exceeds $4,000 if the amount taxable exceeds $4,000 and does not exceed $6,000.

$4,750 plus 50 per cent of the amount by which the amount taxable exceeds $15,000 if the amount taxable exceeds $15,000 and does not exceed $25,000.

$175,500 plus 86 per cent of the amount by which the amount taxable exceeds $250,000 if the amount taxable exceeds $250,000.

Coat Ammunition Given to Milady

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—Ladies, Finance Minister Douglas Abbott has handed you fresh ammunition to go gunning for that new fur coat.

Hubbie may, and undoubtedly will, cite Mr. Abbott for brutality in his budget's virtual exclusion of income-tax cuts.

But Mr. Abbott has his tender spots and this time his tenderness embraced a region of marked importance to you.

He's cutting the special excise tax on a wide range of commodities to 15 per cent from 25 and on others he's eliminating a 15-per-cent tax altogether.

The first cut falls on furs among numerous other things. That, if the saving is passed on, could mean fur coats will cost a fair chunk less, particularly since manufacturers of fur coats recently sold cabinet high taxes are wrecking their business.

But Mr. Abbott's benevolence offers ammunition to the housewife in her campaign to get a lot of other things. The cut from 25 to 15 per cent goes, too, for cars, electrical appliances, jewelry, clocks, radios and toilet articles.

Elimination of the 15-per-cent tax offers even better possibilities. It should substantially reduce the price of washing machines, stoves and refrigerators.

The woman who smokes will get in on whatever cut develops in cigarettes now that Mr. Abbott has cut the tax on them enough to take three cents off the 42 cents now being charged for a package of 20.

Otherwise, ladies, Mr. Abbott was not in a soothing mood.

Tax Eased On Many Articles

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—Text of excise-tax resolution contained in Finance Minister Abbott's budget:

Resolved that it is expedient to introduce a measure to amend the Excise Tax Act and to provide:

1. That the excise tax on goods enumerated in schedule 1 of the act that are at present subject to the rate of 25 per cent be reduced to 15 per cent.

(The schedule includes automobiles; tires and tubes; cameras and photo equipment; cigars, electrical appliances; firearms and ammunition; fishing rods and reels; fountain pens, pencils, etc.; golf clubs and balls; jewelry, clocks, etc; lighters; matches; motorcycles and motors; phonographs, radios and tubes; slot machines; smokers' accessories; toilet articles; and trunks, luggage, etc.)

2. That the excise tax on furs and articles manufactured of fur be reduced from 25 per cent to 15 per cent.

3. That the excise tax on soft drinks be reduced from 30 per cent to 15 per cent and that there be assessed, levied and collected an excise tax of 15 per cent on preparations for household use in making soft drinks.

4. That the excise tax (15 per cent) on stoves, washing machines and refrigerators be repealed.

5. That the excise tax on carbonic acid gas be reduced from 50 cents to 25 cents per pound.

6. That the excise tax on cigarettes be reduced from 2¾ to two cents for each five or fraction of five cigarettes contained in each package.

7. That the excise tax on manufactured tobacco be changed from five cents per ounce or fraction of an ounce to 80 cents per pound.

8. That the excise tax on Canadian raw leaf tobacco be reduced from 1¼ cents per ounce or fraction of an ounce to eight cents per pound.

9. That the sales tax on the following goods be repealed: Drinks prepared from milk or eggs; preserved fruits; cooking oils and salad oils but not including mayonnaise or salad dressing; baling wire for baling farm produce; steel pens for farm animals; preservatives for use exclusively in treating nets, ropes and lines used in the fishing industry; clays and earth for use exclusively as filtering materials in the refining of petroleum oils; goods enumerated in customs tariff items 411A, 437, 476B.

10. That any enactment founded upon this resolution be deemed to have come into force on April 9, 1952.

Lands Registry Meeting Set On Subdivision

SAANICHTON, April 8—A public hearing will be held at the lands registry office tomorrow at 11 a.m. to study the registration of a subdivision in the Mount Newton Cross Road area at its western extremity.

The subdivision was approved by Saanich council in October, 1950. The procedure was adopted but registration was not made before Central Saanich seceded.

The hearing is to ascertain whether the registration may proceed without representations from Central Saanich.

U.S., U.K. Plan T.V. Exchange

PARIS, April 8 (Reuters)—A plan for an exchange of television programs between Britain and the United States was announced here today by a B.B.C. TV expert. Mrs. Mary Adams, head of the B.B.C.'s talks department, spoke at the opening session of a week-long conference of the U.N. economic, social and cultural organization. The conference is attended by TV experts from eight countries.

Most Changes Immediate

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—Effective dates of tax changes in Finance Minister Abbott's budget:

Personal income tax reductions, averaging six per cents to coincide with and be more than eliminated by collection of social security tax—July 1, 1952.

Corporation income-tax readjusted and reduced fractionally in some cases—retroactive to Jan.

Tax on package of 20 cigarettes reduced to 20 from 23 cents—immediately.

Special excise tax of 25 per cent on motor cars, jewelry, furs and other luxuries reduced to 15 per cent—immediately.

Special 15-per-cent excise tax on household washing machines, stoves and refrigerators repealed—immediately.

The 30-per-cent excise tax on soft drinks reduced to 15 per cent—immediately.

A 15-per-cent excise tax to be levied on dry powder drinks competitive with soft drinks—immediately.

No matter when incurred, medical expenses, exceeding four per cent of taxable income, will be deductible for income-tax purposes if paid at any time in 1952.

Cigarettes Back to 1950 Price

OTTAWA, April 8 (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott, surprising nobody, tonight slashed off last year's excise-tax increase on packaged cigarettes.

Admitting the increase had backfired in reduced revenues, he eliminated the year-old impost of three cents and opened the probability of a 39-cent package of smokes. (B.C.'s sales tax will make the price 40 cents here).

minor break—a reduction to 15 from 25 per cent in special excise tax—but there was nothing in Mr. Abbott's budget for roll-your-own addicts or pipe smokers, except for those using raw leaf tobacco.

Likewise, liquor drinkers got scant attention from Mr. Abbott. Small adjustments were made only in excise taxes on spirits used to fortify wines and on beer not made from malt.

In back-tracking from his 1951 cigarette increase, the minister told the Commons that, instead of the forecast $21,000,000 in new revenue, there actually had been a drop of $1,000,000 in intake from this tax.

But he didn't blame the drop entirely on the new tax. He cited additional price increases by the manufacturers; a big tobacco-plant strike last summer; and an increase in imports from the United States.

However, he added that in his opinion the volume of U.S. smuggling has been "greatly exaggerated."

All in all, Mr. Abbott said, the cigarette tax situation seems to have reached the point of diminishing returns.

For the coming year, the excise tax will be eight cents on a package of 20, compared with 11 cents during the last year. This, Mr. Abbott estimated, will result in a decline of $10,000,000 from the revenue over the last year.

Saanich Wants Representative On St. Joseph's Hospital Board

Saanich municipality feels it should have a representative on the board of management of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Council Monday passed a motion that a letter be sent to the hospital noting that councillors do not concur in the suggestion that Leonard Woodhouse be reappointed for another year.

As senior municipality, it is time the municipality had a representative on the board, council agreed.

Reappointment of Mr. Woodhouse is by order-in-council. He represents the outside municipalities including Central Saanich. Esquimalt and Oak Bay municipalities already have concurred in the appointment.

Saanich council also noted it had no personal grievance with Mr. Woodhouse.

No Intent; Truck Driver Goes Free

Charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit theft against a Victoria truck driver was dismissed by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday.

The charge against Frank Cross, 22, of 710 Front Street, was dismissed on the basis that he was so drunk at the time of the alleged breaking and entering that there couldn't possibly be any intent.

Earlier, police disclosed the accused was caught inside the building of the Hafer Machine Shop, 1720 Store Street, on March 30.

Stanley Burnfield, 1139 Hilda, and Allen J. Johnson, 2204 Douglas, both charged with driving a car with only one license plate, were fined $15 each. They pleaded guilty.

Police said they were using one set of number plates on two vehicles.

William George Deacon, 5 Alma Place, was fined $40 for carelesa driving. His license was also suspended.

Races and regattas to be staged May 25 and July 1 will be planned and other business discussed, reports Commodore Robert Watson.

Commencement Planned At Oregon Penitentiary

SALEM, Ore., April 8 (AP)—The Oregon Penitentiary will have its first commencement exercises in history next Friday. 11 convicts will get eighth grade diplomas. Warden Virgil O'Malley said some of the 11 could not read or write when they started courses two years ago.

The Titan beetle of Brazil grows as large as a human hand; specimens have never been captured alive.

Whittier Property in Saanich Likely for Site of Scout Hall

Property on Whittier Avenue in Saanich apparently will be suitable for placement of a Boy Scout hall.

Councillor L. H. Passmore reported to council Monday that a council committee had visited the location after several complaints were received about the proposed site.

The complaints were dropped when all concerned had inspected the hall at its present site on Topaz Avenue and found the building in good condition.

Permission to move the hall is expected to be given soon.

Renewal Planned For Water Main

Approximately 520 feet of two-inch water main on Lasalle Street will be renewed, Saanich council decided Monday.

It also decided that permission would be given Lake Hill Bowling Club for sprinkling rights in the late evening.
